MASSIVE 'CLEANUP' PLANNED BY DE GAULLE

PARIS (Reuters)—President Charles de Gaulle said today he will use his sweeping new powers for "a far-reaching cleanup" of the civil service, army and government administration in Algeria.

Informants said De Gaulle probably will postpone for two weeks his scheduled visit to Algeria. No new date for the visit has been fixed.

BEFORE SOUTH AFRICA PARLIAMENT

Macmillan Speaks Against Apartheid

'We Must Remain
True to Feeling
On Man's Destiny'

CAPETOWN (Reuters)—Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan told the South African Parliament today that his government cannot support "some aspects" of South African policy.

Macmillan did not refer directly to apartheid — South Africa's race segregation policy — but his statement came after he had mentioned Britain's opposition to racial discrimination in general and was an obvious reference to it.

"As a fellow member of the Commonwealth," the British leader told a joint session of South Africa's two houses of Parliament, "it is our earnest desire to give South Africa our support and encouragement."

WOULD BETRAY BELIEFS

"But I hope you will not mind my saying frankly that there are some aspects of your policies which make it impossible for us to do this without being false to our own deep convictions about the political destinies of free men, to which in our own territories we are trying to give effect."

Macmillan has been under heavy pressure from liberal and left-wing circles at home to make an outright condemnation of apartheid during his visit to South Africa, last stop on his 17,000-mile African tour.

Macmillan told parliament he is aware that South Africa is faced with "complicated and baffling problems."

PALE, THINNER BUT SMILING

"It would be surprising if your interpretation of your duty did not sometimes produce very different results from ours in terms of government policies and actions."

MAKE DIFFICULTIES

He cited Britain's non-racialist policy and said it is possible that "we shall sometimes make difficulties for you."

"If this proves to be so, we shall regret it."

"But I know that, even so, you would not ask us to flinch from doing our duty. You, too, will do your duty as you see it."

"The wind of change" was blowing through the African continent.

"Whether we like it or not, this birth of national consciousness is a political fact. We must all accept it as a fact. Our national policies must take account of it."

The prime minister said he was opposed to a boycott on South African goods being organized in Britain by the opposition Labor party and other groups in protest against South Africa's strict segregation policy.

It never had been the policy of any government in Britain to undertake or support campaigns of this kind designed to influence the internal policies of another Commonwealth country.

MAIN ISSUE

The great issue of the second half of the 20th century was whether the uncommitted peoples of Asia and Africa would swing to the East or to the West.

Much depended on experiments in self-government now going on. If these were successful the balance would come down in favor of freedom, order and justice.

Macmillan said he would have been "less than honest" if he had not referred to the different policies of Britain and South Africa.

'I FEEL WONDERFUL'

Premier Released From Hospital To Rest at Home

Premier Bennett was discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday evening to convalesce in his Satellite Street apartment in Oak Bay.

The release from hospital came 11 days after his operation for removal of a kidney stone.

The premier was taken home in an ambulance immediately after a press conference at the hospital.

He was not attended on the journey by doctors or hospital nurses and will not retain a nurse at his home, his executive assistant Dan Ekman said today.

"The premier will remain indoors but is up and around. He plans now to slowly increase his activity," Mr. Ekman said.

Mr. Ekman will visit him daily, but no major meetings with his cabinet are anticipated.

He'll Be Back on 'Budget Day'

The premier is not expected to return to his office until the day he presents his budget in the house — tentatively set for Feb. 12.

The premier was fully dressed and smiling when he met the press at the hospital at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday. He was brought to the meeting in a wheelchair.

Pale and thinner than usual, the premier's smile seemed strained and at times the corners of his mouth turned down, as if with emotion.

He wore a grey suit, white shirt and silver-grey tie. When he spoke, his voice was weak and faltered several times.

He sat in a cleared space before the cameras and newsmen who filled the front rows of the basement classroom. His executive assistant Dan Ekman and hospital medical superintendent Dr. E. N. Boettcher attended him. Nurse Mrs. Marguerite Stevenson handled his chair.

There was a prepared statement distributed, expressing the premier's thanks to all who had sent messages, flowers and gifts.

The premier read the statement, which said in part, "I would like to express my particular gratitude to the nurses, who have been so kind to look after me during my illness."

15-MINUTE WARNING OF ATTACK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will have by September an effective system to provide 15-minute warning of an enemy missile attack, Air Force Secretary Dudley C. Sharp said today.

Sharp said this will offset the danger of an attack destroying the United States' ability to retaliate—a danger underscored recently by Gen. Thomas S. Power, head of the Strategic Air Command.

Power's proposal for an around-the-clock bomber alert was rejected today by President Eisenhower at his press conference.

Ike Wants To Share A-Secrets

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Eisenhower indicated today he would like to see the United States share more of its military atomic secrets with Canada and other allies.

His statement at a press conference came amid reports that the U.S. administration may propose changes in the American law allowing such allies as Canada, Britain and France a greater degree of custody and control of U.S. atomic weapons stockpiled in these countries.

Eisenhower said he believed it would better the interests of the United States to make the existing law "more liberal" as long as the U.S. can be sure that the allies acquiring this more generous treatment will stand with the U.S. in times of trouble.

He said he did not want to treat the allies as junior members of a firm which are only to be seen and not heard.

END TO SQUABBLE

A change in the law might mean an end to the squabble between the U.S. and France.

The U.S. had to take some of its air squadrons out of France because the French government would not allow the stockpiling of American atomic weapons without full control over them.

The U.S. also is reported to be prepared to stockpile atomic weapons in Canada.

Recently, Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated Canada would have a great degree of control over the direction and use of such weapons stored on Canadian soil.

The present U.S. law makes clear that any American atomic weapon stored abroad must remain under U.S. custody and control.

Eisenhower said that since the U.S. is allied with other nations in defence, it ought to arm them in the best possible manner to make the free world's defence more secure.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND

As matters stand, Eisenhower said, the U.S. cannot even give away information that it knows Russia already has. He added it was hard for him to understand why the U.S. does not make this information available.

A reporter asked if Eisenhower intends to pursue efforts to get an effective ban on nuclear testing.

Eisenhower replied that he certainly is going to keep U.S. representatives in Geneva as long as there is the slightest kind of chance the negotiations there will produce an effective agreement with the Russians banning tests.

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Rev. J. T. Robinson finished his Bible class, got into his automobile and began driving back to his home in Milledgeville, Ga.

As he was driving along Atlanta's Memorial Drive Tuesday night, Robinson felt a "lump" on his back but ignored it. Instead, his thoughts turned to his wife and three children and his unending work as pastor of the Milledgeville Baptist Church.

Being a conscientious driver, the 36-year-old minister drove with his "dim" lights on while inside the city limits. He rarely used his "brights" because it was too much trouble blinking them on and off.

This habit saved Robinson's life, along with the "lump" on his back that kept aggravating him. He stopped his car about a mile from the city limits at an ice cream parlor to get a milk shake and take a look at the "lump."

That "lump" turned out to be two sticks of dynamite neatly wired to go off when Robinson pressed his foot on the light switch to turn on his "brights."

He shuddered when he realized that several times during the ride he tried to push the "lump" down and even as he tried to get out of the car his foot got caught in the wires.

Robinson said he was afraid to touch the wire and quickly telephoned police, who held back curious spectators.

Det. Capt. J. L. Mosely, a bomb specialist, placed an auto seat in front of him and dismantled the dynamite charge. Police said the sticks contained 60 per cent nitroglycerine. The device was taken to the state crime laboratory for further examination.

Robinson theorized that the person who wired the explosives must have picked the wrong car.

"I can't even imagine why anyone would want to make an attempt on my life," he said. "As far as I know, I don't have any enemies at all."

Worst Blizzard on Record Paralyzes Halifax Traffic

MEANWHILE . . . IN VICTORIA

While Montreal shivered, Toronto froze, and Halifax dug itself out from under a blizzard, pretty Valerie Shick sauntered coastless back to work along Victoria's Causeway after mid-morning coffee break. Early spring was predicted by groundhog Tuesday, and as can be clearly seen, he is never wrong. Temperatures will remain mild here tonight and Thursday, according to weatherman, but light rain is expected. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

Israeli Patrol Gunned by Arabs

JERUSALEM (CP)—Syrians announced shooting resumed on the Syrian-Israeli frontier today.

A Damascus spokesman for the United Arab Republic's army said U.A.R. outposts shot up a five-man Israeli patrol sent moving toward their positions and that Israeli machine-gunners then opened fire.

The machine-gun fire, possibly intended to cover the operation of dragging away the killed or wounded members of the Israeli patrol, the spokesman said.

"The patrol was ambushed by our fire and all its members fell down," he said.

At Tel Aviv, an Israeli foreign ministry spokesman said Syrian soldiers seemed to be clinging to fortified positions in the Tawfik area in defiance of a United Nations request that they withdraw.

Sources in the foreign ministry said that Israel is prepared to talk to Syria probably at United Nations headquarters in New York about reducing tension on their trouble frontier.

Meanwhile, Syria still faced a UN request for the removal of an infantry platoon from the demilitarized zone.

WAR GAMES KILL 6

REGENSBURG, Germany (UPI)—Six persons have been killed and 21 injured in accidents during the "winter shield" war games of the American and West German armies, officials reported today.

The Shearwater naval air station, which handles commercial as well as military air traffic, was closed.

The city's north end, was admitted to hospital with undetermined injuries after being carried off a stretcher by internes on foot. An ambulance that went to get the woman became stuck. A fire department emergency vehicle took her to a school from where the stretcher had to be carried about two miles to hospital.

Gov't Requests Money

OTTAWA (CP)—The government asked Parliament today to approve another $31,960,511 in expenditures for the current fiscal year, boosting budgetary outlays to $5,681,950,047 for 1959-60.

Conciliation Asked

MONTREAL (CP)—The joint negotiating committee of the non-operating railway unions today asked federal Labor Minister Starr to appear at a conciliation board to deal with their wage dispute with the rail companies.

Soviet Ends Jamming Of U.K. Broadcasts

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union officially informed Britain today that it will stop jamming British broadcasts to Russia.

The Kremlin conveyed its decision to Sir Patrick Riley, the British Ambassador to Moscow.

The Soviet jamming actually stopped at 5 p.m.

The move was foreshadowed in the Anglo-Soviet cultural

Two Feet of Snow Dumped on City

HALIFAX (CP)—This Atlantic coast city and most of southern Nova Scotia was all but paralyzed today by the worst snowstorm in Halifax's weather history.

Twenty-five inches of snow had fallen by noon and it was still coming down. Winds up to 50 miles an hour blocked city streets and country highways with mountainous drifts.

Barrington Street, Halifax's main downtown thoroughfare, was as deserted as a country lane. Stores were closed and so were many offices. Employees were unable to get to work.

HIGHWAYS BLOCKED

Power and communication lines fell under the weight of the sticky, wet snow. All main highways leading east and west from the city were reported blocked for the first time in 20 years.

The Halifax weather office said the snowfall was the heaviest in more than 66 years. The last time the city got a 24-inch fall was in 1894.

Police and fire departments declared an emergency. Off-duty firemen were called back to stand by for whatever might happen. Drifts would prevent fire apparatus from moving on many streets except behind snowplows.

Trolley service slithered to a halt soon after dawn. Stalled street cars and abandoned automobiles clogged some streets and highways. Police tried to tow away cars so plows could do their work.

But city works commissioner George West described it as an almost impossible job. "It's a losing battle," he said. "As soon as we get a street clear it fills in again."

Power failures put several radio and television stations off the air for varying periods.

SHIPPING STOPPED

Shipping tied up in the harbor or hove to off the coast to ride out the blizzard. Only the Halifax harbor ferries continued to operate.

The Nova Scotia south coast got the heaviest snowfall. The snow was a little lighter inland. Northern New Brunswick reported none.

The strongest gale was recorded at Greenwood in the Annapolis Valley, where it touched 62 miles an hour at noon.

The Shearwater naval air station, which handles commercial as well as military air traffic, was closed.

Canada to Join In Pacific Cable

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will participate through the Crown-owned Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corporation in the laying of a cable across the Pacific Ocean, Transport Minister Hees announced today in the Commons.

Mr. Hees said the federal cabinet has ratified Canadian participation in the project.

Canada would contribute $25,000,000 towards the $75,000,000 cost of the Pacific section of the cable.

The project is part of a larger plan to lay a cable from Japan to Europe, passing through the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans.

The project is being financed by the International Cable Corporation, a consortium of several countries.

The project is expected to be completed by 1965.

IN THE HOUSE

WITH Norman Cribbens

There is never a dull moment when the dark, explosive Mr. Gagliardi, our highways minister, rises to address the legislature.

It sounds much like an evangelistic meeting, except that, instead of storming at the Devil, Mr. Gagliardi storms at the Opposition.

And, just as he finds it difficult to understand why the Devil doesn't change his ways, Mr. Gagliardi is baffled and angered because the Opposition will not recognize what he and his department and the Social Credit government is doing for British Columbia.

"I cannot penetrate their stupidity," he thunders.

In an exchange during Mr. Gagliardi's speech in the House on Tuesday, Tony Gargrave (CCF, Mackenzie) accused the minister of being anti-labor, to which Mr. Gagliardi replied:

"On the contrary, I am the most pro-labor member on either side of this House. The workers of British Columbia attest to that. They know me . . ."

"We know you, too," retorted Mr. Gargrave.

Mr. Gagliardi welcomed 20 visiting students from Campbell River High School who were in the public galleries. He thought it a good idea that having heard two Opposition members (Mr. Strachan and Liberal George Gregory) on Monday, they should be able to stay over and hear one or two government spokesmen.

"This will save them returning to Campbell River with a lopsided view of what is going on," Mr. Gagliardi said.

When John Squire, the lively CCF member for Alberni, took the floor, he admitted he was in a bad mood and disposed to find everything wrong with society—and he vented much of his dislike on the high-pressure advertising of these times.

He considered advertisers were rendering a great disservice to the community by pandering to the "something for nothing" and "pie-in-the-sky" mentality.

"They sell goods, not on their worth, but on account of the can-opener or tea-towel that is stuck inside."

Mr. Squire sustained his point with a touching little poem:

"I think that I shall never see,
"A billboard lovely as a tree;
"Perhaps unless the billboards fall,
"I'll never see a tree at all."

And then, in a burst of indignant inspiration, Mr. Squire exclaimed:

"I don't need any fancy female on a fancy package to tell me when I need a cigarette!"

The House roared its approval—with laughter.

Protection Racket Flourishes

MONTREAL (CP)—Strong-arm hoodlums run an ugly protection racket in Montreal while the law stands by helplessly.

"We have no complaints to work on," is the bitter explanation of deputy police director Romeo Longpre, a 30-year veteran with the force.

"Victims are afraid to come forward and tell us about it. We can't collect sufficient evidence for convictions in court. But there appears to be little doubt extortion rings are operating."

He said in an interview they first appeared here about three or four years ago, forcing victims to make "insurance" payments against beatings and property damage.

So far the thugs have preyed only on taverns and night clubs, obviously working independently. But at least three of Montreal's 22 murders last year were traced to the racket.

Last month more than 300 night club entertainers applied for a court order to stop what they described as a $10-a-week "kick-back" racket.

Deputy director Longpre said police were not called in on the case.

'Twice Value' Payment For Property

Saanich lands and planning committee approved in part a town planning recommendation for the creation of a modern light industrial area in the municipality.

It decided to ask council to call a public hearing on rezoning of a 43½-acre tract of land bounded by Douglas, Tolmie Lane, Whittier, Culduthel and Regina.

Reeve George Chatterton said if some residents in the area object to light industry on the grounds it will depreciate their property, the municipality should offer to buy them out.

"We should offer to buy their property at twice the assessed value," he said. "This is the procedure followed by municipalities in eastern Canada."

In the rezoning program no new homes would be permitted in the area. The zone contains about 15 acres of vacant land.

Town planner Tony Parr also recommended that two other areas, situated east of Douglas Street be included in the industrial zone.

But council felt it would not be advisable to rezone the areas at the present time.

Columbia River Hydro

(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA—H. W. Herridge (CCF-Kootenay West) said Tuesday in the Commons that in the public interest the Columbia River should be developed before the Peace River.

There had been a "lot of propaganda" by the Peace River Development Company that power could be produced from the Peace in eight years. But power could be provided in 6½ years by building a dam at Mica Creek on the Columbia.

Mr. Herridge said External Affairs Minister Green has handled vigorously negotiations with the United States and British Columbia on power development of the Columbia. Canada-U.S. formal negotiations open here Feb. 11.

There was "overwhelming support" in B.C. for development of the Columbia under a public authority. The cheapest power in the world was produced under public authority.

Mr. Herridge said there is "great support" for the Mica Dam as the first project in the Columbia development. But the Kootenays generally opposed construction of a high

External Affairs Debate Next Week

The Parliamentary session's first full-scale debate on external affairs will take place Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

The Commons agreed to those dates Tuesday.

The Commons Tuesday night adopted the address in reply to the speech from the throne by a vote of 179 to 44. Six CCF members sided with the Liberals in the vote.

The 10-day throne speech talkathon out of the way, the Commons now gets down to some hard business: money.

The government today will table further supplementary spending estimates for the 1959-60 fiscal year which ends March 31. The Commons will discuss them Friday.

Spending estimates for the current fiscal year already are at an all-time high. They include the main estimates of $5,595,848,557 presented to Parliament a year ago and initial supplementary estimates of $54,140,969 presented last June 1.

Egg dealers are doing their best to build up farmer opposition to the government's new program of deficiency payments for eggs because it has pushed the egg trade "off the gravy train," Hugh M. Horner (PC-Jasper-Edson) told the Commons.

He said the deficiency payment plan for hogs and eggs is "an absolute necessity if we are to support the family farm."

Mr. Horner's strong support of deficiency payments was in contrast to criticism last week of the new plan by another government supporter, Ed Nasserden (PC-Rosthern).

The Canadian government should demand "clear proof" from the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission that atomic waste products dumped in the Atlantic near Boston cannot be harmful, Lloyd R. Grouse (PC-Queens-Lunenburg) said Tuesday.

The metal containers holding these "hot wastes" will not seal in the radio-active material for an indefinite period, he said. Erosion from outside by sea water and from within by the atomic material eventually would destroy the container.

The dumping ground in about 235 feet of water, 12 miles from Boston—is near scallop fishing grounds now being exploited by U.S. and Canadian fishermen. If the U.S. could not give proof that the waste is not dangerous, the Canadian government should take steps to have this dumping stopped.

THREE MINERS FOUND ALIVE

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)

Poisonous gases today forced rescue parties to suspend search for five miners still missing in the explosion-wrecked Yubari coal mine.

The order to pull out the teams came a few hours after the rescue of three miners who survived more than 50 hours in the gas-and-smoke-filled underground passages of the northern Japan colliery.

Runaway Bus Ends Up On Boulevard

Passengers escaped injury when a B.C. Electric bus with out-brakes swerved on to a boulevard to avoid a serious accident at Oak Bay and Richmond Tuesday at 4:20 p.m.

The side of the bus was in collision with a car standing at a red traffic light, but the driver, Rayborne Lantz, 1567 Gladstone, said he was not hurt and his car had only a crumpled fender.

He credited bus driver Joseph R. Watson, 3332 Wordsworth, with prompt action in bringing his heavy vehicle to a comparatively safe stop a short distance away from a power pole. Loss of brakes apparently was due to a mechanical failure.

De Gaulle Gets Full Power

PARIS (Reuters)—The National Assembly, in a brief, overwhelming vote, has given President de Gaulle more absolute power than any other leader of a democratic government in modern European history.

France's legislators by a vote of 449 to 79 Tuesday night approved a bill handing de Gaulle's government authority to rule for a year by near-dictatorial decree.

The bill went to the Senate today, where its approval was considered a certainty.

But the assembly lacked a cautionary amendment on the bill under which the special powers will be invalidated and require renewal if the government is changed or the assembly dissolved.

The legislators acted swiftly in the aftermath of the Algerian settlers' revolt which collapsed only two days ago. All parties supported the bill with the exception of the Communists, extreme right-wingers and most of the deputies from Algeria.

The only deputy who spoke out against the special powers, ex-premier George Bidault, was greeted with boos and desk-banging from Socialists and Gaullists.

The relative calmness of the debate was taken as an indication of mass public support for de Gaulle's handling of the settler insurrection and his self-determined policy for Algeria.

EASTERN 'INVASION' FOR UNIVERSITY CASH

A group of Victoria businessmen will invade eastern Canada to campaign for contributions from large firms towards the University of Victoria building fund drive.

Hon. R. W. Mayhew, appointed Tuesday as honorary chairman of the $2,500,000 drive, said the eastern campaign will begin soon.

He added that local campaign is picking up steam.

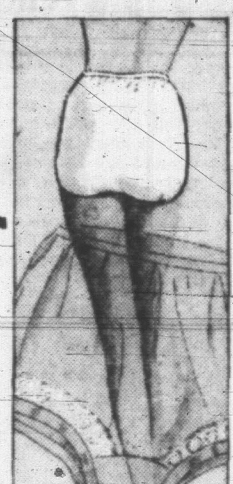

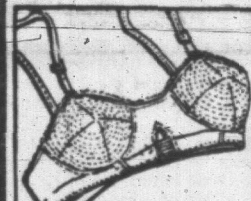

"I am sure that all will co-operate to the fullest extent in supplying the manpower and funds that will be necessary to make the University of Victoria the finest liberal arts institution in Canada," he said.

Firmer Hand for De Gaulle

ONCE THE PRESTIGE OF GEN. Charles de Gaulle had crushed rebellion in Algeria and avoided civil war, it was a foregone conclusion that the President would be given the extra powers he asked to establish stability in France.

Gen. de Gaulle may not be today the mystic white knight he appeared to so many Frenchmen when he returned to power as President. But he still remains their anchor in the storm-tossed days ahead.

Premier Michel Debre recognized that fully when he appealed for authority to govern by ordinance without prior parliamentary approval. A period of 12 months for this semi-dictatorial administration may cause misgivings in the nation which first broke out the tricolor under the rallying cry of liberty, equality and fraternity. Some may question M. Debre's assurance that there will be no attempt to restrict democratic freedoms in France during the period of emergency powers.

Whatever the misgivings, France faces the inevitable question: What is the alternative? At present there seems to be none containing any promise of stability. And if the great problem of Algeria is to be settled, there can be no vacillation in Paris.

It's Good But It Won't Work

DEFENCE MINISTER PEARKES has told Parliament that no immediate change is planned for Canada's defence program, which places our main reliance on the Bomarc B missile. This affirmation of faith came a few hours after the sixth consecutive unsuccessful test of the missile by United States authorities. Eight months of testing has not produced a successful flight of the Bomarc B, and there is speculation that Congress may drop the development program.

Canada has abandoned the Arrow jet interceptor and pinned its defence hopes on two northern installations designed to launch the Bomarc B. Pretty clearly Mr. Pearkes clings to this form of defence, not because he believes it to be superior, but because he now has nothing else to cling to.

Even if it is perfected—and this may never happen—the Bomarc B will not be a super-weapon. It will have a range of 500 miles and a speed of 2,000 mph and is designed to track down and destroy enemy planes and the slower types of guided missiles. But these already have been supplanted as attack weapons—the Bomarc B even if operational today would have limited use.

Canada is not yet formally committed to purchase the missiles, but is prepared to spend $125 millions on the project. The Government appears to have no defence policy but "wait for something to turn up" and this is hardly good enough in the world of today.

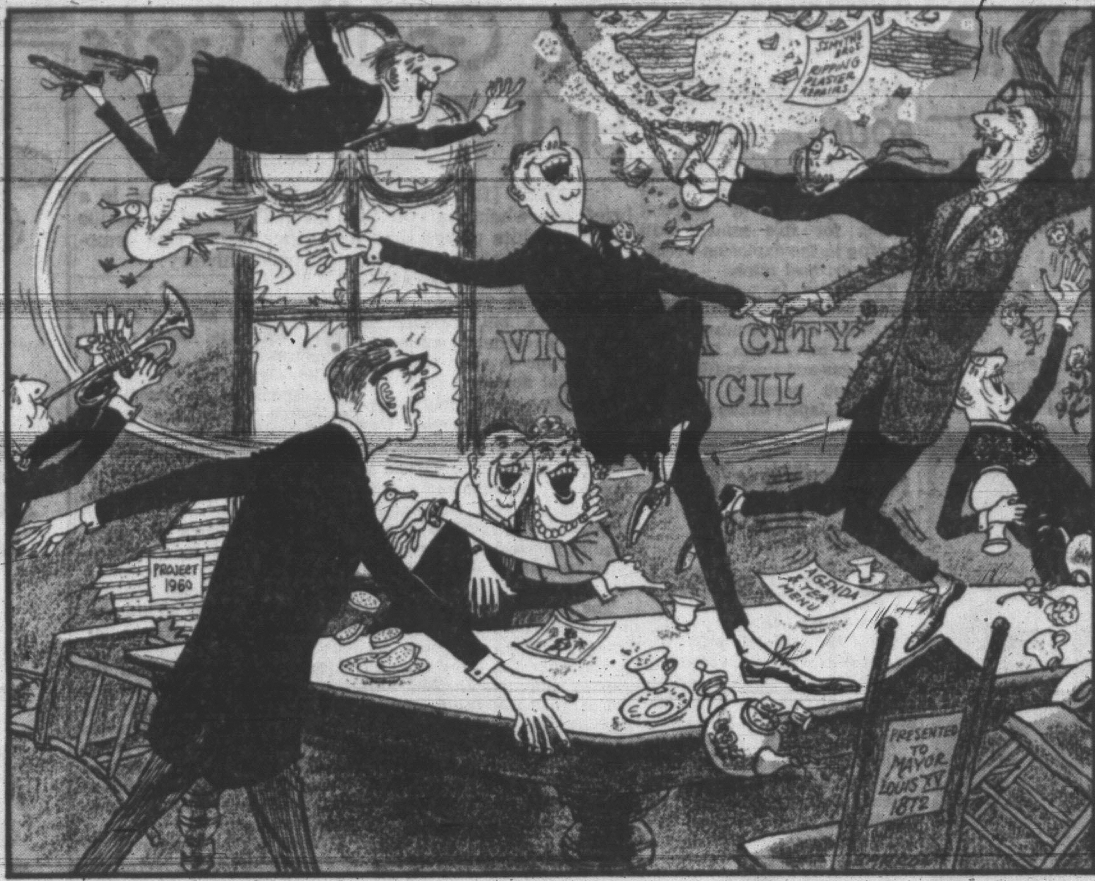

Admittedly the problem is an extraordinarily complex and difficult one—but this only lends support to Mr. Lester Pearson's proposal that a Parliamentary committee be formed to examine all aspects of defence.

Gen. de Gaulle made his plea to the French of Algeria three months ago, noting their contribution in past generations and saying "if one page has been turned by the great wind of history, well it is up to you to write another. Let there be a truce to vain nostalgia, vain bitterness, vain torments; take the future as it comes and grapple with it. More than ever Algeria needs you. More than ever France needs you in Algeria."

Last week's events behind the barricades provided a discouraging answer to that plea. This week's events in Paris imply a much sterner approach to the settlers and the leaders of the rebellion.

That is presumably one of the reasons why new powers are needed. And with them, also, the President may further advance his earlier plan to let Algeria settle its own future at the polls.

It is natural to question authoritarian powers bestowed upon the Government of France. Such action involves risks. Outside observers, devoted to free democratic processes, will watch events, however, with a clear appreciation of the risks that would be unavoidable if the Fifth Republic were to return to the unsteadiness of its predecessors of recent history.

"But Gentlemen... this is SERIOUS... I tell you the royal tour bust has been stolen... it's gone... vanished..."

LONGING GLANCES INTO SPACE

The Urge to Get Away From It All

By B. A. TOBIN

YOU'D think we were about to take off and visit them; the way the experts keep speculating on the sort of living creatures we're likely to meet out in space. It's a sign of the times, I think, that a lot of folk are looking to other worlds for companionship—these days. And you can hardly blame them. There are enough unpleasant types on our own globe to make you begin to think in concrete terms of finding friends elsewhere.

So what if they do have triangular heads with long feelers on them and walk on 39 legs? They're decent, aren't they? Any planet in a storm, and as long as the inhabitants aren't human we'll probably get along all right. The pressures of modern living here on earth are probably the cause of this new view of stars as something to visit rather than merely look up at.

When Professor Piccard made the deepest dive in history the other day he took his weird craft to the bottom of the ocean off the island of Guam. That put seven miles of dark water over his head, and a pressure of eight tons on each square inch of his steel tank.

Deeply Felt

He found fish of some kind living comfortably under that terrible pressure, and a good many folk up here on the surface would no doubt be glad to trade with them and feel they'd got the best of the bargain.

The Marianas Trench hasn't got anything on a modern metropolis when it comes to pressures. That's why one in every 12 of us, so the psychiatrists say, will need a little help in the upper storey at least once during our lifetime—even though we may not get it.

If that's the general average, we can figure that a lower rate in the smaller places such as Victoria, where the pressure is nice and low, means that in the pressure cookers such as New York and Chicago the number of potential couch customers must be much higher.

Perhaps as many as one in eight? That would mean that in every class of 30-odd school children, four would be odd enough to require mental help; in every PTA group of 160, about 20 parents and teachers ought to have their heads examined; in every legislature of 48 members, six need help to prevent nervous or mental collapse.

It makes you think, doesn't it? It makes some people think: Lemme out o' here!

Crowded Out

But where can they go? Even if they find a deserted spot on the globe, the experts pursue them saying that in only a few years there won't be room to sit down and all the food will be eaten up.

The North Pole is noisy with airliners, the South Pole is no place if you don't like weekend visitors who stay six months, and all in between is becoming increasingly filled with residents, tourists, survey commissions, tax collectors, hydro-electric engineers, traveling ballet groups, movie stars making personal appearances, immigrants, emigrants and just plain humanity.

You can't even hide in a park these days without the risk of getting jolted into eternity through a high-tension short circuit or snapped into oblivion by a high-lead logging cable.

So where to go? Either you join Professor Piccard seven miles down, or start humming Come Josephine in My Rocket Machine.

It isn't all just idle musing either. The people who might be expected to make the best guesses about the situation away out there have been making them.

Likes and Dislikes

One of them, a Nobel Prize winner in science, warned us just the other day that we mustn't expect to meet recognizable "cousins" among the outer galaxies. That, of course, will be quite all right, no doubt, with those of us who eventually in desperation make the trip. Anything to remind the traveller of his mother-in-law, his landlord, a school teacher he didn't like or even his local parliamentary representative, might well be avoided if possible.

So the scientist suggests that, having at last got to some other planet, we should be prepared for something right out of this world, so to speak.

There is no reason, for instance, to think that recognizable forms such as our fish, insects, birds or animals will be found. To find the same creatures would mean that exactly the same environment must have occurred, and that is highly unlikely.

So you might find organisms that breathe carbon dioxide and drink alcohol. No, wait, that sounds too much like earthly city dwellers. Let's say breathe ammonia gas and drink carbon disulphide, which might be the only liquid they have available.

Such a chap might be 10 feet tall, with 19 wavy blue arms, or he might be in the form of a dark green scum. Folk like that might take a bit of knowing before you could be on casual terms. But thinking it over, we haven't really much choice, have we?

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Sordid Story

In "Dental Mechanic Trapped by Agent" you unfold a sordid tale indeed. It tells of a dreadful way to make a living—to approach decent mechanics to try to persuade them to break the law.

When they decline, work upon the native kindness of their hearts with a trying hard luck story. Then we have the honorable order of professional men who employ these actors. "Justice," real justice would deal heavily with those who by lies and deceit prevail on people to break the law.

If a group of business men band together to hold up prices they, on conviction, are heavily fined. Yet a group of professional men can legally band together to keep costs to the public five to ten times more than the mechanic charges. The price of drugs is being investigated, why not the cost of dental plates.

SPECTATOR.

Aroused Public

The B.C. Electric and City Council may not have helped themselves in their attitude regarding Thetis Lake Park, but they have unintentionally been of great service to the city and to all of B.C.

They have furthered the cause of parkland preservation by arousing the citizenry to greater understanding and increased interest in its parklands.

The editorials of both papers, the articles, columns and the letters have kept the refrain on key. The one continuous note from all sides has been as well expressed by Mr. A. R. Davidson—"Leave it alone"—and explained and amplified by Dr. William Newton, retired head of the Dominion Experimental Farm, in his letter ending, "Surely the mayor and council will see fit to preserve our Thetis Lake Park in its entirety as a sacred trust."

Is it now perhaps likely that there will be forthcoming a great tangible means of supplying this park with the necessary maintenance and protection satisfactory to all those concerned with the well-being of the people—and of the park for the people?

G. M. BELL.

Dean Whitlow to Mr. Pepper

Mr. Pepper has quite missed the point and has gone to a great deal of trouble to attack something I never said. He has quite clearly not read the cathedral Sunday leaflet in question where, in my letter to the parishioners, I quoted from a recent book by the Bishop of Exeter, in England. This book, entitled "The Duties of a Churchman," makes the simple point that for a person who claims to be a churchman, the worship of God on Sunday is a primary duty.

Mr. Pepper leaves us in no doubt about his own enthusiastic belief, and so the bishop's comments do not apply to him. I would scarcely be so foolish as to suggest that someone who does not believe, in God has a duty to worship him. But those of us who do so believe clearly have such a duty. This was the whole and only point in my letter to the Cathedral parishioners.

Mr. Pepper should really make sure where the shots are coming from before he starts firing off in a direction from which he has not been attacked. In his eagerness for controversy, he has put his own words into my mouth in order to try and make me look foolish by subsequently extracting them with a great flourish. Such tactics may amuse the children at a magician's show; but they are not suitable as a means of arriving at the truths by which men must live and die.

BRIAN WHITLOW,
Dean, Christ Church Cathedral.

Mr. Dowding and Mr. Thorson

At the Victoria Bar luncheon Friday, Mr. Justice Thorson was quoted as opposing the new B.C. Trade Unions Act (Bill 43) because it unduly restricted "freedom of association." The speaker showed most ably that the act does not do this.

In checking my press files I find that the justice's words are reported by several sources as follows: "British Columbia's Trade Unions Act (Bill 43) is unduly restrictive. It limits the right of organized labor to free assembly and free speech. I am unequivocally opposed to any such measures."

The learned judge was amplifying his original words before the Canadian Bar Association last September when he said: "The right of free assembly has been threatened in at least three Canadian provinces."

There is a huge difference in meaning which should be pointed out in fairness to Mr. Justice Thorson.

Under Sections 3 and 4 of the act, free assembly and free speech are positively and unmistakably restricted. Free association is not.

FROM ROME:

Italian Crossroads

By DUART FARQUHARSON

CANADIANS who are expecting to welcome Prime Minister Antonio Segni to Ottawa at the end of February might do well to keep a close watch on the political situation in Italy.

Mr. Segni cancelled his visit to Canada last September at the last moment, it will be recalled, because of a political crisis at home. Most observers here believe that another political crisis—which just failed to come to a head last December—is bound to erupt, quite probably about the end of February.

It is admitted that Mr. Segni may still be able to come to Ottawa and Montreal as the head of the Italian Government. But few people here believe that his Government can survive the year 1960.

There is little that is new about the crisis in Italian politics; only added urgency about solving it. At bottom is the crisis of the Christian Democrats, the ruling party in post-war Italy. There is a division within the party about what to do about the undisputed fact of steadily declining electoral support.

Three Ways

The crisis will be provoked, as it has been before, in one of three ways. The three left of centre ministers, supporters of former Prime Minister Amintore Fanfani, will resign as they had planned to do last December. Or Prime Minister Segni himself will resign, saying he is forced to because of the failure of the left to co-operate. Or the Christian Democrat party will divorce itself from the Government.

Because of the difference of parliamentary practice in Canada the third possibility may need clarification. Only two of the many post-war Governments in Italy have been defeated by a parliamentary vote. What usually happens is that the Christian Democrat party leadership signifies its discontent with the Government leadership, even though the top Government leaders are Christian Democrats.

The present party leader, Mr. Aldo Moro has already drawn a distinction between the Government and the party. He has said that while the party must get a better Government, for the time being it must support the present one as a state of necessity. This winter he may decide that the time has come to change.

According to the Italian constitution, administrative elections at the provincial-municipal level must be held every four years. These elections are due this spring. But there are many Christian Democrats, reputedly including Mr. Moro, who believe that the party would suffer heavily in such elections because it has moved too far to the right.

Improve Chances

The choice that has to be made then, is whether to put off holding the elections, or have the crisis first in an effort to improve the party's electoral chances. To put off the elections, it might be added, while against the law is not unprecedented in Italy.

Whatever it may turn on, the issue is much more basic than just another Italian political crisis or another game of governmental musical chairs. There has been a tendency among foreign observers to stress the need for unity above all else. This has been Mr. Moro's contribution since becoming the Christian Democrat party head last February—keeping the largest party from splitting into irreconcilable groups.

What now must be increasingly asked is whether the price of unity has become greater than the advantages. The left has sacrificed much to the right for unity; the result, according to all statistics, has been a decrease in party supporters.

The basic issue is this. During the past 10 years Italy has seen the slow erosion of the centre parties. If the present trend continues, if the Right within the Christian Democrat party continues to get more militant, Italian politics will be increasingly polarized. The result—which does not appear too distant—is the emergence of a National Bloc of the right, and a Popular Front of everyone else, but dominated by the Communists.

Basic Issue

The Christian Democrats can put off the basic issue—but not indefinitely. To reverse the decline of electoral support they must get new policies—economic policies which do something about unemployment, social policies which do something about education. But to get the new policies they will have to get new forces, because anything which is against the status quo is vetoed by the right within the centre coalition. The only new forces available are the Nenni Socialists.

Either the Christian Democrats must turn to the left or they must turn to the right. If they turn to the left they may be able to get the Socialists in conditions which are not a threat to democracy.

All talk of Christian Democrat-Socialist get-together—and there has been much—has so far foundered on the implacable opposition of the right and a powerful segment of the Church to the Socialist-Communist alliance.

There is reason to hope, however, that enough Nenni Socialists might be willing to break away from the Communists if the question was put to them squarely and if the Christian Democrats were willing to break away from the extreme right.

The alarming phenomena is already apparent if you read the Italian press each day: the convergence of the extreme right and the Communists. Because both groups stand to lose from a Christian Democrat-Socialist arrangement, they are engaged in a combined action to block it. Each exploits the other's arguments to argue that it is impossible.

Unless this combination of opposite vested interests is overcome, they may be left to fight it out over the dead body of Italian democracy.

What Have We for Industry?

THE PEOPLE OF THIS CITY are familiar with the recurrent theme that we need secondary industries—here and ought to do something about it. People in this city keep saying it, periodically, and of course it's true.

But no amount of talk by itself builds any new industry.

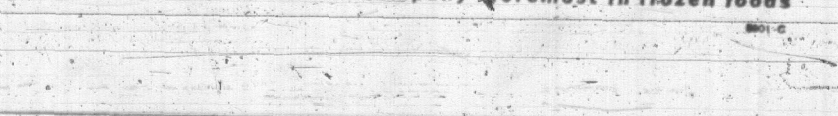

It is encouraging, however, to note the report of the B.C. Electric's decision to finance a survey by an expert firm to indicate the opportunities for developing new business in this community. And it is gratifying to see that the city staff will supplement the survey by gathering information on climate, transportation facilities, utilities, sites, wage scales, housing, prices and other related information important to industry.

A good fact-finding job could be an auspicious start for developments that have too long remained conversation pieces here. It will be a happy result if the surveys reveal to prospective industrialists advantages which Victoria has that other centres do not share.

Whatever the amenities, however, the deciding factor in plant establishment will be the existence here of opportunities to make money on industrial investment. Except for their tourist attraction and limited returns to the florist business, our roses are not going to be an irresistible magnet for capital bent on seeking profitable employment.

FULL-TIME TO TRADING

MARKET SUMMARIES

Collieries Stock Continues Active

For the fourth straight session Canadian Collieries was the top industrial trader on the Toronto stock market today, turning over more than 57,000 shares by early afternoon. It was unchanged at 10 1/2.

After two days of sizeable advances the market backed away today. Huron and Erie continued to lead industrial winners with a one-point gain at 59.

Algoma Steel Net Profits Increase 50%

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—New production records and a 50-per cent increase in net profits were reported today by the Algoma Steel Corporation.

In a summary of the 1959 annual report, President D. S. Holbrook said Algoma steel sales last year reached an all-time peak of $162,696,199. Net profit totalled $17,606,000 or $3.05 per share. This compares with the 1958 figures of $11,763,000 net profit or $2.04 a share.

Canadian stocks were losers, Aluminum Ltd. was off 1/2 and International Nickel 3/4. Hudson Bay Mining "dropped 1/2. Distillers Seagrams and Walker Gooderham were also off fractionally.

On the American exchange Eureka and Molybdenite gained slightly.

AT LONDON the threatened rail strike continued to restrict interest and activity on the stock market today.

Glittered securities showed small losses on balance as the market's initial firmness was not always maintained.

Dollar stocks responded to yesterday's improvement on Wall Street. Industrials gained, oils were dull and golds were quietly irregular. Early gains in coppers were not held.

AT VANCOUVER the market was spotty with prices varying during the forenoon. Bethlehem Copper traded 8,000 at 86, New Ainsworth traded 4,500 at $10.75. Torwest moved 14,200 at 16. Vantor traded 2,300 at 55.

AT MONTREAL activity increased and prices became mixed in trading today on the stock exchanges.

Gov't Bond Issue Oversubscribed

OTTAWA (CP)—The government's new bond offerings of $300,000,000 were "substantially oversubscribed" in a two-day sale that ended Tuesday night, Finance Minister Fleming announced today.

A statement by the minister said he was "highly gratified at the response."

The two-part bond issue, offering interest yields of 5.70 and 5.76 per cent for relatively short-term maturities, gave buyers an option of converting to long-term bonds maturing in 1975 and 1976.

The new bonds carry interest coupons at 5 1/2 per cent—the same rate that will apply if holders switch to the longer-term bonds.

Prequalification Answer To Gov't Road Contracts?

By HAL MALONE
Times Business Editor

Few things frustrate governments or the road construction industry more than the spectacle of a job abandoned by a contractor whose abilities exceeded his resources.

There have been times, of course, when a contractor has found himself with more liabilities than assets through no fault of his own. There have been times too when the contractor never should have bid for the job and the government should not have accepted his tender.

Last week in Calgary the Canadian Construction Association took steps to alleviate the problem.

The CCA adopted the principle of prequalification on road building contracts and urged all levels of government to apply it.

Prequalification is a method of classifying the work capacity of bidders in advance of tendering to determine whether the company getting the job is capable of handling it.

Since it seems straightforward and logical why, you might ask, hasn't it been adopted before?

The answer is that prequalification, like marriage and taxes, has proponents and opponents.

For years supporters of prequalification have seen it as an efficient method of establishing experience and financial responsibility. Its oppo-ents have claimed it cramps free enterprise and denies opportunities to beginners.

George H. Wheaton, a prominent Victoria contractor, disagrees with the objectors.

"In any prequalification," says Mr. Wheaton, "experience and financial capacity are two important considerations."

"A newcomer need not be penalized if he shows that his engineers and technical staff are experienced. As far as financial capacity is concerned, no contractor is apt to succeed without it—whether he is a newcomer or not."

"If a newcomer can meet those standards, the free enterprise system permits him, rather than denies him, the opportunity to compete and if he proves capable to keep on competing and growing."

Presently Ontario is the only province where prequalification is necessary on provincial highway projects.

A contractor's rating is arrived at by a complex assessment of his assets, past performance and other commitments. He receives a basic rating on his current assets, the depreciation value of his fixed assets and the value of equipment judged suitable for the job.

From this rating penalties are subtracted for such things as previous unsatisfactory work or violation of regulations. Finally the value of other contracts held by the contractor is subtracted, leaving an amount which determines the size of the job on which a bid may be entered.

There may be weaknesses not readily apparent in the Ontario legislation.

But the principle is excellent.

INGO'S A HAPPY GUY; BOUT BARRIERS CLEARED

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson return bout for the world heavyweight boxing championship was practically a reality today.

It appeared most stumbling blocks had been cleared and that the new promoters, Feature Sports Incorporated, had only to sit out the required waiting period for a licence to stage the bout.

Johansson, who lifted the crown from Patterson last year, headed home for Sweden Tuesday night in a happy frame of mind.

"I'm confident the contract will be signed when I return later this month," Johansson said. "Everything looks fine for the fight in June."

The site for the 15-rounder has not been set.

SIDELINE SLANTS

BY

Doug Peden

We'll never know the answer, but a fellow can't help wondering how many points Gordie Wilson would have collected for the Cougars this season if he had been playing regularly between wingers Gordie Fashoway and Arnie Schmaltz.

It will just have to be guesswork for Victoria hockey fans because the tall centreforward boarded a plane at Pat Bay early yesterday morning, heading for Quebec City to complete the American Hockey League season with the Aces.

Thus ended the Victoria chapter in the puzzling story of Gordie Wilson, a player of alternately great promise and great disappointment.

Another chapter begins at Quebec tomorrow night when he hits the ice for his first game with the Aces. Only time will tell if he can still make a successful career out of professional hockey, but it is possible that knowing he is wanted and playing regularly for a club receiving remarkable fan support will give him the confidence needed to turn the trick.

Confidence seems to be the dominating factor in the ups and downs of Wilson's career. Known well by only a few of his teammates, he is less aggressive than many players and more prone to worry about injuries than most. He also owns a passing skill possessed by only a few and when things were going well he often looked like one of the best outside of the NHL.

Seemed Undecided About Puck Career

When he was troubled, Gordie appeared unable to give his best. And this has been one of his troubled campaigns, although he was originally counted on by manager-coach Hal Laycoe for regular duty.

Concerned about providing future security for his wife and four small children, Wilson seemed undecided whether or not to continue in hockey and some thought he was planning to call it a career when he failed to show up for a pre-season exhibition game at Chilliwack.

Once started on the WHL season, he showed only flashes of his true skill in sporadic appearances during the 44 games he was in uniform.

Undoubtedly hampering his play was discouragement over the fact that he was not working a regular shift and was being used mainly on a checking line when his passing talents are better suited to a scoring unit, which might possibly have been formed with Fashoway and Schmaltz as his wingers.

That, of course, is water under the bridge and mid-season moves are part and parcel of professional sport. What still lingers is an air of mystery surrounding the circumstances of Wilson's departure.

Gordie, who had earlier refused to go to Quebec, was wrong in not advising Laycoe that he had decided to report to the Aces and didn't intend to play last Saturday's game against Calgary.

But there seems no reason why the Cougar front office couldn't issue a definite statement on Wilson's plans by Monday afternoon, even though the player didn't follow up on a promise to contact Laycoe.

Gordie Was Available to Anyone

All the Cougar players seemed to know Sunday that Gordie was leaving Tuesday morning for Quebec. Most knew where he lived. Club trainer Berlyn Hodges called on the Wilsons around noon Monday and, Gordie was home, packing most of the day, available to anyone who wanted information on his side of the situation.

"I like Victoria and hate to leave," the 26-year-old Port Arthur resident said during a break in his packing chores, "but under the circumstances, I guess it's just as well."

"When I left home this season, I put my house up for sale, thinking I was going to make my home here. I wasn't going to go but the fellow (Quebec manager Jack Toupin) kept phoning me. He made me a fairly good offer and I agreed to go to Quebec Friday night."

"He said I was their property and would go on their payroll Saturday and he told me not to play here Saturday. He said he would wire the Victoria club, but I guess he didn't do it. I know now I should have checked with Hal."

"I know I wasn't helping the club," Gordie said, "but I wish they had tried me on some other line. I have to play regularly to go well. One of the biggest things is confidence and when you sit out a lot of shifts you just can't have it. Every year I've played regularly I've scored more than 25 goals."

"I'm sorry to leave, but it may work out for the best." If Gordie regains his confidence, it may do just that.

Labor Strife Reaches Into Racing Paddock

NEWMARKET, England (Reuters)—Labor trouble rumbled across the paddock in the pint-sized world of this famous racing town today.

More than 70 apprentice jockeys are threatening to strike unless their hostel welfare officer is reinstated.

Welfare officer William Welham was fired from the hostel, leased to trainers by the Jockey Club, on the ground that his salary could be put to better use in buying food for the pint-sized world of jockeys.

But the lads, complaining about poor living conditions, snorted that Welham was the "only one who's done anything for us."

They also said they get meagre pay and the odds are long against them ever becoming long-fledged jockeys.

"Training," said one. "They just put you on a horse and it's up to you."

Mounties Will Play 16 Training Games

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Mounties will play 16 exhibition games against other Pacific Coast Baseball League teams and Houston and San Antonio of the Texas League. Manager George Stallier reports to Yuma, Ariz., to start training camp March 14, will lead the team into action for the first time on March 23, against Seattle at Yuma.

Beliveau Excused

MONTREAL (CP)—Jean Beliveau, star centre of Montreal Canadiens, has been excused from practices this week because of a groin injury. He had a chance to practise for the first time in a full week Thursday when Canadiens meet Toronto Leafs here.

JANO CAN PLAY ROUGH, TOO

Showing that European hockey players can dish up rough stuff in North American style, Czechoslovakia's Jano Canalski (right) grabs puck after knocking University of Minnesota defenceman Bob Wasko to ice with bruising body check. Action occurred in second period of exhibition game at Minneapolis Tuesday night. Despite Jano's jarring, Czech Olympic team dropped 3-2 decision to university athletes. (AP Wirephoto.)

GRUMBLES AND MUMBLES...

Well, Isn't Anybody Happy?

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—Grumbling echoed through the mountains surrounding the site of the 1960 Winter Olympic today as:

1. The United States speed skaters complained because officials were not taking care of their rink, neglecting it for the figure skating rinks.

2. The figure skaters complained because they had not been given a chance to practise for a full week.

3. The male figure skaters complained because they were getting cold shots tomorrow and they believe it is too close to the games and may put them off their balance.

4. And Olympic officials complained as the International Federation decided it would ban at this late date India and Nationalist China from the games, which start Feb. 18.

H. P. Thoren, managing director of the games, received the cable from Marc Hodler, president of the FIS.

HOLIDAY FOR SAWCHUK; WINGS CALL FOR RIGGIN

EDMONTON (CP)—Goalie Dennis Riggins of Edmonton Flyers left today for Detroit to replace Terry Sawchuk in the nets of Red Wings of the National Hockey League.

General manager Bud Poile of the Western Hockey League club said Riggins would play for Detroit for one or two games to give Sawchuk a rest. Riggins' first game will be against New York Rangers in Detroit Thursday night.

Gilles Boisvert from Cleveland Barons will take the place of Riggins in the Edmonton nets.

Riggins, who scored his second shutout of the season against Calgary Stampede Tuesday night, has not allowed a goal in 101 minutes and 53 seconds.

HOME RUN KING SIGNS

Tribe Nets First Big One

By UP INTERNATIONAL

General manager John McHale has landed his first "big one" and now he hopes the other Milwaukee Brave stars will start nibbling at his bait.

Third-baseman Eddie Mathews, the major leagues' home run king, became the first of the Milwaukee stars to agree to terms Tuesday when he signed for an estimated $50,000. That represented an increase of about $10,000 as a reward for his sparkling comeback from a dreary 1958 National League campaign. He raised his average from .251 in 1958 to .307 and he beat out Chicago Cubs' Ernie Banks for home run honors when he hit No. 46 in the second playoff game.

With 299 homers in eight seasons, Mathews is setting a pace that would rank him right up there with Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx and Mel Ott in lifetime home run totals.

Kansas City Athletics and ported two key winter additions to the fold with the signing of outfielder Norm Siebern and pitcher Bob Trowbridge.

Marv Throneberry, revealed he has returned two unsigned contracts to the A's and wants more money.

The third of Detroit Tigers' big pitching four was called when Jim Bunning returned his 1960 contract. Bunning, 17-13, led the American League with 201 strikeouts. Starter Paul Foytack and Don Mossi had previously agreed to terms leaving Frank Lary the only member of the Big Four yet to be heard from.

The Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates also reported progress in negotiations with second-line players.

Yankees have signed pitchers Bill Bethel, Eli Guba and George Haney.

Pirates signed Don Gross and Fred Green.

Third-baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore Orioles agreed to terms for a sum estimated at slightly over $10,000.

Minnie's Had That Pay Before! CHICAGO (AP)—Outfielder Minnie Mingo has rejected a 1960 contract offer by Chicago White Sox.

The Cuban flash, obtained from Cleveland Indians in a trade, said "they offered me the same salary I had the last time I played with them."

New Charter In Effect Soon OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa Football Club, operated as a nonprofit enterprise since its inception, will become a privately owned, profit-making corporation within six months.

President J. O'Brien said a new charter is expected to be in effect within the six-month deadline set by the weekend held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Big Four meeting for all clubs to be privately owned.

Carol Heiss, the U.S. national and world figure skating champion, said that she and her teammates hadn't had a much in the way of training for a full week. However, they worked out Tuesday night of the first practice they have had since Jan. 26.

Hank's Bid Ruined By Lone 'Peg Goal

Warriors Lose to Canucks; Tackle Cats Here Tonight

Hopes, failures and a no-nonsense win by Edmonton Flyers.

That was the Western Hockey League picture Tuesday night as Calgary Stampede and Winnipeg Warriors, fighting it out for fifth place, both lost their games and Vancouver netminder Hank Bassen missed a shutout record by eight minutes.

Stamps lost 2-0 to Edmonton Flyers, who fired home two goals in the first period and fought off the Stamps for the rest of the game.

Tonight, the Warriors shift their battleground to Memorial Arena, taking on Victoria Cougars, who are still aiming for a second-place finish. Calgary moves to Edmonton for a return bout with the Flyers.

In Vancouver, Canucks defeated Winnipeg, 4-1, but the single Warrior goal came in time to foil Bassen's efforts to equal the shutout record of 183 minutes, 34 seconds set in the 1950-51 season by Victoria's Jerry Colton.

FATTEN LEAD The results stretched Canucks' lead over second-place Seattle Totems to nine points. Edmonton moved into a third-place tie with Victoria but Cougars have three games in hand. Calgary stays one point ahead of Warriors with Spokane Comets in the cellar.

Bassen stopped 29 shots in the Vancouver game, matching Warriors' Al Rollins before more than 3,500 fans.

Winnipeg's only goal—and the record-killer—came in the 13th minute of the first period when Bill Folk broke through Canucks' tight screen around Bassen and hammered home the puck from 20 feet out.

Winnipeg started the second period in high gear but could not penetrate the Canucks' defence and centre Ray Cyr made it 1-1 with less than two minutes of the period remaining.

Cyr was back again early in the third, seconds after Danny Bellie had a goal disallowed, and Colin Kilburn and Dave Duke pressed home the Vancouver advantage.

The game featured slambang hockey throughout—with Kilburn and Winnipeg defenceman Garry Bergman in the thick of most of it.

MAJOR PENALTIES Minor clashes punctuated the entire game, but most of the action came in the first period: After a number of minor scrapes, Bergman and Kilburn drew major penalties when they collided behind the Winnipeg net and fought it out.

In Calgary, Chuck Holmes and Gene Achymichuk scored early in the game for Flyers and Dennis Riggins kicked out 27 shots to keep Stampede scoreless.

Flyers concentrated on man-to-man checking and the Stamps rarely got a dangerous attack started.

Among 3,684 fans watching the contest were members of the touring Moscow Selects hockey team. The Russians play the Big Six League all-stars in Calgary tonight.

Curling Scots Improve Lead FALKIRK, Scotland (Reuters)—Canada's touring curling team won only one of six matches Tuesday in falling before Scotland, 118-81, in the fifth test match for the Strathcona Cup.

Canada's hopes of winning the cup were further diminished, as only two test matches remain. Scotland is far ahead in total points. The Canadians have won only one of their five test matches to date.

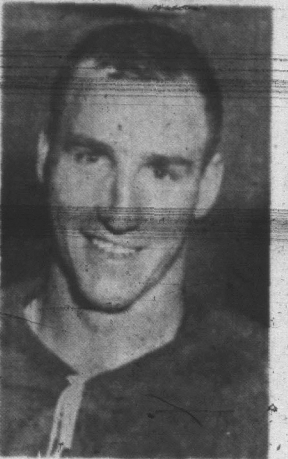

A rink skipped by Winnipeg's Ken Watson won the only game—and that over Willie Young, the former British and Scottish curling champion. The score was 19-16.

New Mountie VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast Baseball League have announced the acquisition of pitcher, Elliott Coleman, just out of the United States armed forces.

In 1957, Coleman's last season before going into the service, the six-foot three-inch right-hander won 12 and lost 15 with San Antonio of the Class AA Texas League.

Belmont on June 11 NEW YORK (AP)—The 92nd running of the Belmont Stakes, oldest and longest race in the triple crown for three-year-old thoroughbreds, will be held June 11. Again worth $125,000 in added money, the 1½-mile Belmont is the first 1960 stakes date announced for the New York season, which opens March 21 at Aqueduct.

BOOSTERS MEET A meeting of the Victoria Cougars Booster Club will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. E. M. Jennings, 1856 Fairburn.

RETURNING to Memorial Arena tonight is former Victoria scoring ace Al Nicholson, who will line up with Winnipeg Warriors in Western Hockey League game against Cougars. Leading Victoria scorer last season, Nicholson has collected 10 goals in 23 games with Winnipeg. Game time tonight is 8:30.

Wilfie Faces 'Old Spoiler'

CHICAGO (AP)—Tiger Jones, one of boxing's front line, old pros, and Wilfie Greaves, Canadian middleweight champion from Edmonton, will try to outmanoeuvre each other in the Chicago stadium ring tonight.

The 10 rounder will be the 79th fight for the 31-year-old Jones who has been the spoiler for many a top-notch contender. Probably his biggest night was in the Chicago stadium ring Jan. 19, 1955, when he gave Sugar Ray Robinson one of his worst 10-round beatings.

Greaves has won his last three starts, stopping Leroy Flamond in four rounds to retain his Canadian title in Calgary Oct. 15, defeating Phil Moyer Dec. 18 in Madison Square Garden and knocking Eddie Bell in three at Philadelphia Jan. 14. His record is 30 (including 17 kayos)—11-1.

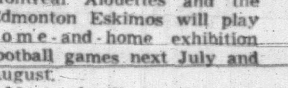

Als Clash Twice With B.C. Lions MONTREAL (UPI)—The Montreal Alouettes and the Edmonton Eskimos will play home-and-home exhibition football games next July and August.

Montreal will also play British Columbia in Vancouver and Montreal and the national champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers in Montreal.

Alouettes will meet the Eskimos in Edmonton either July 14 or 15 and then go on to Vancouver to meet Lions July 20. They return home to play the Lions again July 26.

DETROIT (AP)—Bryan Derrett, St. Paul forward, has been suspended indefinitely for felling a referee in an international Hockey League game at Milwaukee last Saturday.

VIKING VIEWS

By ELLERY LITTLETON

You can't find any busier athletes around the Victoria University campus these days than the basketball players.

If they make it to the end of the long playoff trail, the Vikings will play 15 games within 30 days. Some of the games have already been completed with the Varsity crew winning over the University "B" squad and Victoria Independents.

The second game in a two-game, total-point series with the Independents was played last night at Mount View High School. Starting with the 20-point edge earned in the opening tussle, the Vikings rapped their rivals 45-28 to finish with a 37-point cushion.

Victory sends the Vikings against Navy in the city junior final, which starts Thursday night on the Mount View floor.

On Friday, the University hoop hopefuls will transfer their talents to the Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament at Victoria High. They open Friday's two-game program against Royal Roads at 7:30. Vic High and Oak Bay clash in the other semi-final game at 9. Final games in the tourney will be played Saturday night.

The following weekend the University will stage a basketball show of its own. On February 12 the Vikings will play Courtenay High School, last year's British Columbia high school finalists. The Vikings are comprised largely of the Victoria High School Totems of last season, who defeated Courtenay in the provincial final.

Recently, Courtenay upset the Vikings 57-51 in an Up-Island contest, so the stage is set for what should be a fine rubber match.

The following night the Vikings will tackle UBC Jayvees, a team which has twice defeated Vancouver senior "A" clubs. The Jayvees have lost only one game this winter, that one was to the Vikings in a one-point thriller. Site of the game has not yet been announced. Still on the basketball scene, the "B" team pulled a switch over the weekend, winning in Nanaimo on Friday 47-40, then losing to the same team here on Saturday 67-57. The Saturday game featured fouls, with no less than 31 at half time, and the B's finished the game with only four players on the floor. In the preliminary, the Kiwetees were clobbered cleverly by UBC, 31-9.

A special plea is going out to all university sports fans for better support in the coming important basketball games. Lately, all the basketball teams, including the B's and the Vikes, have been playing before near-empty stands.

Weekday games may interfere with studies, but it is hoped that students and their friends will make an extra effort to attend weekend tussles. Money is desperately needed to finance the Canadian junior final, which will be held in Victoria if the Vikings stay in the running. Approximately $4,000 is required.

Our water polo team lost its first game of the season Sunday, losing 7-4 to Royal Roads. Stars of the University team, Bob Wheaton and Bruce Warburton, were swimming in Seattle, where Wheaton won the Pacific Northwest 220-yard backstroke title.

TIME OUT! BY JEFF KEATE

Careful Bats Drop Indies In Deep Hole

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (Reuters)—West Indies set the mammoth task of scoring 501 in 10 hours for victory, struggled grimly for runs on the fifth day of the second test against England Tuesday.

With one day left for play, West Indies was 366 runs behind with eight second innings wickets in hand. It was then 134 for two, having made 112 in reply to England's first innings total of 382. England declared its second innings Tuesday morning at 230 for nine.

England batted 45 minutes in adding 34 runs for the loss of two wickets before May declared Tuesday morning. This left West Indies 10 hours batting but it never looked like accepting the challenge for it soon fell far behind the clock in its anxiety to keep wickets intact against some tight bowling.

Contenders Gain Ground

'Profit Only Aim' Of Peace Backers

Wenner Gren and his associates are only interested in what they can make out of British Columbia, said John Squire, CCF member for Alberni, speaking in the throne speech debate in the legislature Tuesday.

"They are interested only in profit. It is only this government that has put forward the idea they are doing it for the good of the province."

"When the government says industry will follow, it knows this is only incidental to the main objective."

'END OF WORLD'

Mr. Squire, referring to the IWA strike in 1959, said:

"From the carryings on of cabinet ministers in this government you would think that because they went on strike for more wages, the end of the world had come."

"Everything possible was done to prolong the negotiations. Every other person got into the act."

"We had the usual propaganda from the employers... and Mr. Wicks (labor minister) lined himself up on the side of industry right in the middle of the strike."

The government panicked... yet, since the strike ended, the companies have made big profits."

Mr. Squire said sales of Crown Zellerbach Canada Ltd. had jumped 40 per cent, while those of MacMillan Bloedel Ltd. had increased 13 per cent over the previous year.

'WON'T LISTEN'

"The labor minister seems to think it's his job to put the unions in a straight jacket and when I go to him about safety and compensation, he won't listen to me..."

"Just recently a logging truck driver was fired because he refused to move a load which wasn't safe. Yet if they had looked at the regulations they would have known he was right."

'MORE STRIKES'

Mr. Squire quoted the B.C. government as saying that Bill 43 would bring stability—"yet we have had more strikes since then than ever before."

He insisted the basic problem was one of conciliation, without government prejudice against the workers.

"We must have fair conciliation," he declared.

Youths Fined For Dumping Wrecked Car

If a wrecked car is worth $1, getting rid of this one turned out to be 200 times more costly, two teen-agers learned ruefully in Saanich police court Tuesday.

Keth Boshier, 3218 Albion, and Robert Cartwright, 3065 Washington, both 18, pleaded guilty to a joint charge of dumping rubbish on municipal property and each were fined $100, the minimum fine under a local bylaw.

Police said the boys towed the engineless body of an old car, complete with rear wheels and axle, to a point on Munns Road, stopped and tipped it over into a ditch.

SEEN OTHERS

When checked by police the boys said they did not know there was a prohibition against such dumping because they had seen other car wrecks in the area.

Police gave them 48 hours to remove the derelict and it was whisked away in two.

'Anti-Sprawl' Plan Over First Hurdle in Saanich

The first concrete community plan for the development of Saanich was endorsed in principle Tuesday by council's land and planning committee.

The whole future development of the entire district east of Shelbourne—an area larger than Esquimalt and Oak Bay combined—is involved in the plan.

Some 6,000 residents reside in the area.

It takes care of all future main roads, school sites, parks, commercial areas and even suggests locations where churches can best serve the population in the area.

FLEXIBLE

Reeve George Chatterton said the plan is flexible and could be changed or altered at will by council.

Its main purpose, he said, is to permit council and the engineering staff to stop haphazard development in the area and to make the best use of land.

'BE BIG'

"We can expect that certain individuals will consider the plan conflicts with their interests," he said. "But I hope we will be big enough to consider the interest of community first before those of an individual."

Comptroller-treasurer John Tribe described the plan as the first step towards the orderly development of the municipality.

"Saanich is in a fortunate position to be able to prepare such a plan because it is still largely undeveloped," he said. "Other municipalities have not this advantage."

30,000 PEOPLE

Saanich town planner Tony Parr, who took 18 months to complete it, said the district eventually would contain a population of 30,000.

"This plan is designed to take care of the needs of such a population," he said.

ADVANTAGES

Some of the advantages residents, ratepayers and land

developers will derive from the plan are as follows:

1. Schools will be able to set aside land for future school sites.

2. Land developers for the first time will have a permanent plan from which they can design their subdivisions.

3. All future main roads will have to fit in with the overall plan, thus eliminating bottlenecks, traffic problems and wastage of land.

4. Large and small commercial areas will be restricted to certain zones where they can be of most benefit to the community.

5. Council will be able to plan for future parks.

David Howard Ward, 18, of 2411 Quadra, was fined $20 in city police court Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to having a bottle of beer in his possession.

RACING BODY SET THURSDAY

Attorney-General Robert Bonner is expected to outline the duties and responsibilities of the new British Columbia Racing Commission when he speaks in the Legislature, on Thursday.

It is also expected he will name appointees to the three-man commission, which was authorized at the 1959 session.

Mr. Bonner is the first speaker Thursday afternoon. The date for the commission to become effective and the allocation of offices in Vancouver also will be detailed.

(A) "ANIMAL FARM"
 (Fox)—Old Major cleared his throat and began to sing. It was a stirring tune, something between Clementine and La Cucuracha. The words ran:
*Beasts of England, beasts of England,
 Beasts of every land and clime,
 Hearken to my joyful tidings
 Of the golden future time.*
 Thus was the inspiration for the revolt of all the animals on Jones' farm. Not long afterwards they arose as one and chased both Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones off their own property, set up a Communist enterprise and changed the name of the farm from Manor Farm to Animal Farm.
 As written in 1946 by England's brilliant satirist, the late George Orwell, "Animal Farm" is regarded by many as a classic, a modern-day Alice in Wonderland. As an animated motion picture made by British cartoonists Halas and Batchelor, it comes mighty close to rivaling the book, but not quite.
 The reasons for this, of course, are obvious. While reading Orwell's book the imagination is allowed full rein, each reader realizing in his own way the magnitude of the loyal, if not too bright, work-horse Boxer and his donkey pal Benjamin, the duplicity of the pig-hierarchy in the persons of Napoleon and Snowball and the ultimate perils plaguing a country of revolution by all the people for only a very few people.
 Somehow seeing them all instead of imagining them, was not quite the same. The film, clever as it is, could not peer into the minds of all as an author can do by way of narrative.
 Nonetheless, there were some moments when the film emerged more powerful than the book. There were, for instance, the frightening sight of the green-eyed dog-monsters who guarded the dictator Napoleon, the accident to Boxer, Benjamin's grief and Boxer's ultimate end in a glue factory.

'PRICES NOT TOO HIGH' DRUG FIRMS HEAD SAYS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Drug prices in Canada are not too high, there is no combine operating within the pharmaceutical industry in this country and claims placed before the U.S. Senate investigation on the drug industry are "unmitigated nonsense."
 These were some of the views expressed by Stanley N. Conder of Toronto, general manager of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Manufacturers' Association, who arrived here Tuesday.
 Mr. Conder said profits in the drug industry here were not unusually high and an independent survey of 28 manufacturers showed an average of 6.5 per cent profits in relation to sales.

Pupils to 'Perform' For Parents Friday

Parents will see pupils in action at the new Esquimalt Senior High School following its official opening Friday night.
 After the ceremony, a conducted tour of classrooms will show pupils at work in typing, industrial arts, home economics and art rooms. There also will be experiments demonstrated in the chemistry and physics laboratories.
 The school band will open the program at 7:45 p.m. The school, at Colville and Lampson, will be dedicated by Rev. J. A. Roberts of St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church.
 School board chairman W. C. Gelling will introduce the speakers, Education Minister L. R. Peterson, Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele and Trustee R. H. Reeve.
 The program will include a solo vocal performance by soprano Marilyn Tate and a selection by the girls' glee club.

Youth Jailed After 'Insane' Driving

A 19-year-old driver, charged with criminal negligence after a police chase at speeds approaching 100 miles an hour, was sentenced in Saanich police court Tuesday to 30 days in jail.
 David Glenn Ringland, 239 Merzies, pleaded guilty to the charge laid when he was cornered in a dead-end street shortly before midnight Monday after a pursuit by Central Saanich and Saanich police who had city police coming to their aid when Ringland was stopped.
 "You could scarcely have been more of a public danger if you'd stood there firing a gun," Magistrate William Ostler remarked after hearing the circumstances.
"INSANELY"
 He reiterated the danger involved to people at large, "...including police whose unfortunate duty it is to try to apprehend people who behave as insanely as you."
 Court was told that a Central Saanich constable chased Ringland's sports car at about 90 miles an hour from Keating and reached 100 miles an hour along Douglas at McKenzie. When Saanich police joined the chase they followed at 70 when the little car failed to stop at a stop sign at Trans-Canada Highway, maintained the speed through another stop at Cloverdale and passed a third stop sign at Dupplin, all in a 30 miles an hour zone.
LIGHTS OFF
 By the time Ringland reached the side streets, where finally he was cornered, he had switched off his headlights in an attempt to elude the police.
 When asked by the magistrate what he meant to accomplish, Ringland replied: "It was only on the spur of the moment. But I understand it was a pretty foolish thing to do."

Labor Moves to Drive SIU 'Out of Province'

VANCOUVER (CP)—With speakers branding the Seafarers' International Union (Ind.) an "enemy of the labor movement," Vancouver labor council Tuesday night closed its ranks in opposition to the SIU.
 The accusations against the SIU came at a VLC meeting which decided to:
 1. Seek a meeting with officials of the Canadian Labor Congress, B.C. Federation of Labor (CLC), Canadian Brotherhood of Railway and Transport Workers (CLC), and National Association of Marine Engineers (CLC) to organize a jurisdictional campaign against the SIU;
 2. Urge seamen to quit the SIU and "take their rightful place in the legitimate trade union movement";
 3. Prepare to place experienced organizers at the disposal of the CBRT to help in its jurisdictional battle with the SIU for control of more than 1,000 coast seamen.
CONDEMN BEATING
 The council also condemned the brutal attack last Saturday on Richard Greaves, 55, president of N.A.M.E., who suffered severe injuries when two thugs burst into his office and kicked and beat him. Greaves, whose union has merged with the 40,000-member brotherhood although it still retains its own name, is a key man in the jurisdictional dispute waged for the last seven months between the 10,000-member SIU and the brotherhood.
 Paddy Neale, secretary of the VLC, said following Tuesday's meeting: "We are contemplating lending additional men to help the CBRT in its drive to organize coast seamen. We intend to do all we can of a lawful nature to see that the SIU is cleaned out of B.C."

Revival This Summer For Mid-Island Ball

L. Cowichan, Chemainus, Duncan, Ladysmith Agree to Field Teams

(From Duncan Bureau)

CHEMAINUS—Revival of senior baseball in the mid-Island area was promised for the coming summer at a meeting here of 15 representatives from Lake Cowichan, Chemainus, Duncan and Ladysmith.

All four centres agreed to field teams. There has been no senior baseball in this area for two years.

"The prospects for a good year of senior baseball are bright," said Manning Irvine, a former ball player and present Chemainus Pony League official.

It is hoped that a Colt League, presently operating at Chemainus and Duncan, for ball players aged 15 and 16 years, will be reorganized at Lake Cowichan and Ladysmith.

NANAIMO—Local recreation commission will ask city council to seed the infield at Grandview Bowl with grass to provide a playing area for sports and games.

Although the city has more parks per capita than any other in Canada, it is short of playing fields, according to the commission.

QUALICUM BEACH—Officials of St. Mark's Anglican Church here for 1960 are F. C. Morgan, rector's warden; Harry Large, people's warden; Mrs. J. F. Smyth, secretary; J. L. Stevens, treasurer; Mrs. Eva Jarvis, envelope secretary. Rector is Ven. A. E. Hepdy.

QUALICUM BEACH—Second annual meeting of the recently-formed Comox-Nanaimo Presbytery of the United Church, extending northward from Chemainus, was held at St. Stephen's Church here.

Large centres were represented, as well as such outlying communities as Cape Mudge, Tahsis, Alert Bay and Port Hardy. Rev. Robert Moses of St. Stephen's was chairman.

PORT ALBERT—Holdfast Natural Resources Ltd., which has options on a large shale deposit east of here, is considering whether to build a pozzolan manufacturing plant here or on the mainland.

Pozzolan is produced from shale and is used to improve the quality of structural concrete.

Directors of the company discussed plans at a luncheon meeting here with civic and business leaders of Albert and Port Alberni.

TOFINO—A constant search by police and the Tofino transport department lifeboat crew has failed to find any sign of Tim Manson, 80-year-old Ojibwa Indian missing since Saturday.

He arrived here Saturday aboard a troller and has not been seen since. His cane was found on the government wharf.

His invalid wife and married son and daughter live at Ojibwa.

GANGES—Howard Carlin, who operates the weather station on Salt Spring Island, reported a record rainfall of 4.18 inches fell Jan. 28 and 29.

January precipitation totalled 8.32 inches, including 1 1/2 inches of snow. Last January 6.77 inches fell, including 6 1/2 inches of snow.

DUNCAN—Alec N. Canute, 52, of Koksilah, pleaded guilty in Duncan police court Tuesday to impaired driving and was fined $150 or 30 days.

He also was fined $10 for driving without a licence. RCMP reported his licence had been suspended two years ago and had since expired. The court ordered that no licence be issued to him for 60 days.

DUNCAN—Kinsmen Club-sponsored annual "Mothers' March" for the B.C. Child Care and Polio Fund fell short of the $4,700 objective Saturday when a total of $2,900 was collected here in the annual one-hour march.

About 180 mothers canvassed Duncan, Shawnigan Lake, Cobble Hill, Maple Bay and Cowichan Bay.

A total of $1,178 was raised by marching mothers in Chemainus.

Church Building Free of Debt

CHEMAINUS—The United Church building is now free of debt, the annual congregational meeting was told this week.

The 1960 budget will make provision for an addition to the building and needed new equipment and fittings.

Rev. Thomas MacMillan, who has served the Chemainus and Ladysmith parishes for the past four years, announced that his resignation will be effective next June 30.

Harry James, D. R. Kernachan, Mrs. Henry Olmshank, and Mrs. Herman Beefink were named to the board of Stewards.

'TRIAL RUN' STARTS ON HERRING FISHING

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — Nelson Brothers Fisheries Limited sent 17 seiners out of nearby Port Edward Tuesday to resume herring fishing on a trial basis.

Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative also have 13 seiners operating in the area.

A Nelson Brothers spokesman said the firm was taking a gamble in hopes herring would appear in sufficient volume to make the operation profitable.

Major fishing companies announced last month they would not resume herring fishing after the new year because of low market prices for oil and meat.

'He Will Kill Us Both' Says Wife

(From Duncan Bureau)

Danny Thomas, convicted in Duncan police court Tuesday on a charge of assault, was fined $10 and was ordered by Magistrate A. C. Sutton to stay away from a Cowichan Indian Reserve family.

Norman Sebastian Jimmy, Koksilah, told the court Thomas had come to his home at 4 a.m. Jan. 30 to ask for a shovel because his car was stuck.

Thomas then put up his dukes and said "I'm up to get you. I learned lots in jail," Jimmy testified.

A scuffle followed during which a six-inch knife dropped to the floor.

SHE WARNED HIM

Mrs. Jimmy said that last year she had left her husband after a family quarrel and had gone to the United States with

'DUPLICATION' HIT BY CCF MEMBER

Gas Price Probe Asked

JOHN SQUIRE

A government investigation into the high cost of gasoline in British Columbia was urged in the legislature Tuesday by John Squire, the CCF member for Alberni.

Mr. Squire declared that some companies who have no refineries in B.C. spend millions in advertising their products as "the best" but are actually selling the gasoline of another company which is also spending millions in advertising.

DUPLICATION

He spoke of "excessive and unnecessary costs" to the motorist caused by duplication in the fields of manufacturing, distribution and advertising.

He said a royal commissioner investigating the situation in 1936 had recommended that gasoline then selling in Vancouver for 10 cents a gallon, should be reduced to 18 cents.

The commissioner further recommended that no more than the cost of transportation should be added to the sale price at other points.

"But," said Mr. Squire, "distributors are adding much more to the cost of transportation."

Mr. Squire said the unwarranted number of new outlets being built at the present time had resulted in higher prices for the consumer, and for the

Bomarc Missile 'Too Late' Top U.S. General Claims

OTTAWA (CP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. army chief of staff from 1955 to 1959, says the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile is too late to be an effective weapon.

Gen. Taylor writes in his book The Uncertain Trumpet: "Too much money is being spent on the manned interceptor and on the Bomarc missile system. The former is obsolete; the latter is too late in relation to the waning bomber threat and too doubtful as to technical and fiscal feasibility."

Canada has agreed to put up $125,000,000 as its share for installing two Bomarc bases in this country together with the required electronic system to control the weapon's operations.

Gen. Taylor's book is likely to make good preparatory reading for members of the Commons defence committee which will look into Canada's defence expenditures. A lot of what he says has application to defence policy in this country.

NO ALTERNATIVES

Gen. Taylor's main thesis is that the U.S. has got itself into the position where it can fight only an all-out nuclear war in which it and its enemies would be obliterated or retreat to eventual surrender.

He describes the policy of "massive retaliation" as "the great fallacy" and calls for a new policy of "flexible response" by which the U.S. would be able to wage conventional or limited war as well as all-out nuclear war.

Gen. Taylor says the nuclear deterrent—the U.S. Air Force's Strategic Air Command—is necessary but that more is needed.

Defence Minister Pearson has said repeatedly that Canada's policy is based on the nuclear deterrent. Most of Canada's defence dollars have gone for protection of Strategic Air Command—radar lines, interceptors and now the Bomarc.

16 Victoria Daily Times
WED., FEB. 3, 1960

COMMANDING OFFICER of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, Lt.-Col. J. C. Allan will attend a conference in Calgary next week to study defensive tactics and logistic support in a nuclear battle. The four-day study program, commencing Monday, will be attended by senior officers of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group, from B.C. to Manitoba.

Socred Hits Out At Own Ministers

Skeena Social Credit M.L.A. Hugh Shirreff criticized the government Tuesday for inactivity in the department of mines and over-activity in the new department of transport.

He was the first speaker on the government side of the House this session to attack his own ministers—a field reserved in the past for Cyril Sheford of the neighboring riding of Omineca.

"We haven't got a department of mines," said Mr. Shirreff, "we have a department of revenue."

He said Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan's department spends 90 per cent of its time administering gas and oil production.

"Minerals are forgotten except for the collection of royalties," he called on the mines department to conduct more mines exploration, correlate existing mines' information and encourage young prospectors.

REMOVE TAX

Mr. Shirreff wants the new overland tax levied on commercial trucking removed.

Speaking for his own riding, he said:

"Truck loggers are faced with ruin. Any tax which puts people out of business can hardly be construed as worthwhile, and certainly the expected revenue from it will never materialize."

He said operators are being forced to liquidate their holdings.

"The economic well-being of the area is faced with collapse and the situation will have to be met squarely on that basis by the government."

He was proud, however, of the government's achievements in northern highway construction and called for construction of a marine highway linking major Alaska settlements with Prince Rupert and the southern border of B.C.

PARKING TALKS SET FOR GOV'T WORKERS

City public works committee Tuesday decided to set up a three-way meeting between the city, provincial government and civil servants in an effort to find a solution to the parking problem at the Legislative Buildings.

Decision was made after a civil service delegation asked the committee to delay for six months its plan to extend parking restrictions beyond their present 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. limits in the area.

The delegation said it needed that much time to work out tentative plans to provide off-street parking for some 400-500 civil servants now parking on streets all day.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE HELPS BREAK DOWN FATS IN THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

All-Male Jury In Murder Trial

Trial of Leland Eugene Miller, 33, charged with the stabbing death almost three years ago of Mrs. Dorothy Frances Duyvejonck, opened today in Nanaimo Assize Court before Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker and an all-male jury.

The stabbing took place April 2, 1957, in the home north of Courtenay which Miller shared with Mrs. Duyvejonck, his common-law wife. Miller was committed for trial May 14, 1957, but by September was ruled insane and unfit to instruct his counsel.

He has been in Essondale Mental Hospital since that time, and on Tuesday the court found him sane and able to stand trial.

First witness was Const. K. Anderson, RCMP, who described seeing the body of Mrs. Duyvejonck in the house April 3 at 3 a.m. There was a large wound in the neck, he said, and when a sheet over the body was raised, a knife was seen near the body.

The prisoner, a former Victorian and milk route driver, sat quietly during the session. Lean-faced and with thick hair, he wore a light blue suit and neat collar and tie.

He is defended by James J. Proudfoot, and T. G. Bowen, Colthurst and Donald Cunliffe are prosecuting.

MONTE ROBERTS

I trust the incoming incumbent of the tourist bureau, whose job it will be to beat heartily on the publicity drums, will not fail to turn the spotlight on one of Victoria's greatest—and, so far, most neglected attractions. I refer, of course, to the Garbage Wharf. Excuse it, I mean Garbage Depot.

It is all very well to spend time, money, and ingenuity thinking up ways to publicize such attractions as Beacon Hill Park, the World's Tallest Totem, the Butchart Garden, the Stately Homes of a Little Bit of Old England, the Cathedral pigeons, Government House, the five o'clock performance at the Fountain Circle, and the Legislative buildings all lit up at night, like.

But what of the Garbage Wharf? Pardon, Depot. Why should it be neglected? As a tourist attraction, it has boundless possibilities.

Yet what tourist has ever even heard of it? In fact, I suspect thousands of our own citizens, lifetime residents of Victoria, do not realize the immaculate perfection of this priceless pearl among the beautiful jewels of this, the fairest city of them all.

Such a Garbage Wharf—sorry, Depot—should not be born to blush unseen.

It combines the austere, antiseptic efficiency of its functional use with an old-world, maritime charm enhanced by the sleek, well-fed seagulls who hover over above in precision formation and ever-changing flight patterns.

Best of all, anybody can enter the Garbage Wharf—er, Depot—and anybody is bound to win.

I would suggest, however, that you dress rather informally. A morning coat is not required. White shirt, regimental tie, and an ordinary business suit (as long as it is of subdued color) will be perfectly in order.

(But no sports jackets or loud shirts, please.)

The attendants at the Garbage Depot (there, I made it first time 'round) are models of courtesy and efficiency.

Even the smallest contributions are gratefully received and quickly removed from the visitor's automobile.

After which, the visitor is waved gallily on his way, as the attendants turn to greet the next arrival.

And all this for a very modest fee, less than the price of a package of cigarettes.

I must admit, I was one of those who did not approve of the Garbage Depot, and I still miss the romantic night of a grapefruit rind sailing serenely into the sunset down Juan de Fuca Strait.

But let us all get behind our Garbage Depot, and let us make sure the incoming incumbent of the tourist bureau will make sure its charms are fully publicized.

After all, this is something even Nanaimo can't take from us.

'JUMPING-JACK' JEEP TAKES IT ON NOSE WITHOUT DAMAGE

That versatile, bouncing military vehicle the jeep has lost none of its impact since the Second World War.

In city police court today army driver William C. Sutherland, 410 Wilson, of PPCLI at Work Point, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving, arising from a rear-end collision between his jeep and a car on Bay Street. He was fined $40.

Court was told the car had $400 estimated damage; the jeep none.

New Financial Crisis Faces City Symphony

Special Conference Called by Directors

Victoria Symphony Society Tuesday night called for a special post-season conference of business, provincial government and civic representatives to meet a financial crisis.

It also decided to set up a junior symphony this summer for high school graduates as a training system for producing new local musicians.

A three-hour meeting of directors grappled with the society's "growing pains" problem but decided to call the three-way conference rather than cut down the number of concerts for next year's program.

The conference, to be set up after the March ending of the current concert season, is intended to broaden and increase government and community support.

John Barracough, society president, said the outside municipalities are "contributing a disgracefully small amount" towards the symphony.

Victoria gave $3,500 last year, Saanich $250, Oak Bay $200 and Esquimalt $100.

He said the civic governments will be asked to contribute 10 cents per capita next year, which would pump $14,000 into the symphony's $85,000-plus budget.

The provincial government will be asked to contribute for the first time.

"Just as the federal government has taken an interest in the arts throughout the Canada Council, so should the provincial and civic governments," Mr. Barracough said.

Business also will be asked to increase its donations, which slipped from $9,800 during the first half of last season to $5,100 this year.

GAP GROWS

"Ticket sales bring in about half of our income but that means we still have to find more than $40,000 elsewhere. As our society grows, it now numbers 1,750, and increases the program of concerts, the gap grows too," he said.

Last year 180 guarantors picked up a $15,000 deficit.

"They are willing to do that each year but this time the deficit is going to be much larger so we must find ways of increasing the donations."

The present schedule of 10 pairs of concerts in the city, three in Sidney and four in Duncan will be maintained for another year in the hopes that the financial picture will strengthen.

$30,000 SOUGHT

The society also will apply for a $30,000 Canada Council grant this year to help set up the junior symphony.

Dr. J. F. K. English, deputy minister of education and a symphony director, was made chairman of a committee given the job of organizing the junior symphony.

Mr. Barracough said the junior group will take musicians and school orchestra members after they graduate from high school and continue their training so that some day they can be worked into the senior symphony.

The society also will use Canada Council funds for presenting two concerts during March in the Royal Theatre for Grade 7 pupils.

"The concerts will be free but we hope that the children voluntarily will donate about 25 cents a piece to help defray the costs of transportation," Mr. Barracough said.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Could you give me the date of the naval battle in the Falkland Islands during the First World War? E. S.

Boiler Explosion Won't Delay Ship

A vapor explosion blew out one side of a low pressure boiler aboard HMCS Ottawa in Esquimalt Harbor shortly after 11 p.m. Tuesday, causing a blast that startled View Royal residents.

A navy technical officer said today the damage was minor, mainly to the boiler casing and brickwork, and will not restrict operations of the ship, due to sail Monday on an extended Pacific cruise.

The damaged boiler is used only when the ship is in port and the main boilers are shut down. It supplies steam for domestic heating, and for use in the ship's laundry and galley. It operates at a pressure of 100 pounds per square inch. The navy said the explosion was apparently caused by unburned gases from the fuel oil used to fire the boiler.

There were no injuries. AB E. Botterell was the only man on duty in the boiler room at the time.

The Ottawa, a destroyer attached to the Second Canadian Escort Squadron, was moored at HMC Dockyard's jetty A, on the south side of Esquimalt Harbor.

SAIL MONDAY

She was to have carried out a one-day firing exercise in Juan de Fuca Strait today, but was detained in port while command technical and engineering officers investigated the damage. She will sail Monday as scheduled.

The boiler affected is described as "about the size of the furnace in a medium-sized apartment block." It is 12 feet eight inches high, six feet 10 inches wide and 10 feet four inches long.

The duty officer aboard the ship described the blast as "sounding as if one of the ship's guns had been fired."

A formal report on the accident will be prepared in a few days.

Woman Starts Fund to Aid Hard-Luck Greek Seaman

A fund was started here today to aid an injured Greek seaman, recovering in St. Joseph's Hospital from injuries received in a 45-foot fall aboard his ship.

The seaman, John N. Tourontos, is "broke" because his ship has been sold to new owners, and the former owners have gone bankrupt. He has been in hospital for over four months.

The story of his plight, as told in Tuesday's Times, prompted Mrs. Phyllis Leece, 2126 Glasgow, to start the fund.

"I couldn't sleep last night thinking of the poor man and his family," she said. Mrs. Tourontos' wife and where it was kept. The animal weighed between 300 and 400 pounds. The International

FLY-BY-NIGHT SALESMEN IN SAANICH

A warning that a group of "fly-by-night" salesmen are operating in Saanich, was issued today by Roy Wootton, Saanich licence inspector.

He said he has received in the past two weeks more than 60 complaints from residents who have bought magazine subscriptions from salesmen but have never received the goods.

"We have also received complaints against contractors who solicit business from door-to-door," he said.

Mr. Wootton said he will suggest to council that out-of-town firms operating in the Greater Victoria area be bonded for six months as a protection to the public.

Father of Two Admits Bilking City Shopkeepers

Donald McNeill, 32, of 2121 Cadboro Bay, father of two, pleaded guilty today in city police court to defrauding the public of money, a charge laid by police after McNeill obtained $51 with a concocted story that drew sympathy from eight victims.

Magistrate William Ostler remanded the accused to Tuesday for probation report and sentence.

The victims were all shopkeepers and businessmen who were telephoned first with the information that a man whose child had been scalded would be calling in to the particular store or office. The proprietor was to inform him of the "accident" and tell him to pick up a prescription which would cost anywhere from $5 to $10.

The telephone caller, would add that the father had left home without his wallet.

In seven of the eight cases, Det. Raymond Maitland told the court, the business operators would offer money to the man who then called without being asked for it, having been moved by the alleged circumstances.

'On-Site' Industry Backed by Bonner

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the government agrees with B.C. Energy Board chairman Gordon Shrum that Peace River power should be used in the north.

Speaking in Vancouver Monday, Dr. Shrum said the proposed Columbia River power output should be earmarked for the lower mainland metropolitan area and Peace power should be used for on-site industry.

Mr. Bonner said the Peace River hydro memorandum of agreement between the government and Peace River Power Development Company spells out favorable terms for power use in the north.

PULP MILLS

He said he believes, when the Wenner-Gren, B.C. Electric subsidiary begins its northern project, the Wenner-Gren interests would simultaneously introduce northern industries.

Pulp mills have been suggested by Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston. The memorandum of agreement stipulates "the power produced shall be made available on a first-come basis in the northeast and north-central regions of the province. Power which is surplus from time to time... shall be made available throughout the province."

The agreement also states rates charged shall be under Public Utilities Commission jurisdiction "provided that no additional sum shall be charged in the north... to equalize costs of transmission to other parts of the province."

DEAR ABBY ...

Tell Her the Truth, Mother!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How does a mother go about telling her seven-year-old daughter about divorce? Her father and I are being divorced, but she thinks he is away on a long business trip. I haven't the heart to tell her he's not coming back because she adores him. She's a very understanding child but very sensitive.

A READER

DEAR READER: Tell her that you and her father have decided that you'd be much happier living apart. In explaining that he is not going to live with you any more use the word "divorce." It is better that she hear it from you than from the neighbors or the kids at school.

DEAR ABBY: The other night I went to a school dance. I was dancing with my boyfriend and every time I swallowed I could hear myself go "Gulp!" It was very loud and I was embarrassed to death. What would you suggest?

"GIRL GULPER"

DEAR "GIRL GULPER": Forget it. The "gulp" seemed especially loud to you because it was your "gulp." Your boyfriend was probably so busy listening to his own "gulp" that he didn't even notice yours.

DEAR ABBY: About six months ago my son (23) started having an affair (intimate) with a divorcee, 31. I kept urging him to stop seeing her before this affair got serious. He said he wouldn't marry her if she were the last woman on earth.

Now she is going to have his baby. Neither of them seems disturbed about it. I have never met this woman and don't care to. Public opinion means nothing to them and marriage is not even considered for the baby's sake.

We are not trash. We are respectable people in this community. We don't know where this woman or her illegitimate child fits into our lives. All my son has to say on the subject is, "I'll support the child, but marriage is out." And he continues to see this woman. What can we do about this mess?

BEWILDERED: DEAR BEWILDERED: This "mess" is the responsibility of your adult son. He doesn't appear to be asking for any help from you or advice from me. It is not your problem. Mother.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SO VERY MUCH IN LOVE": Discuss this with your parents. Teen-agers who want to marry without the consent of their parents are the ones who need guidance the most.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Married in South

Mrs. Rene Lindgren of this city is announcing the marriage of her daughter Mary, widow of Mr. Douglas Palmer of Victoria, to Mr. Harold Hicks of Palm Springs, Calif. The wedding took place recently in St. Peter's Episcopal Church at San Pedro, Calif., with Rev. Father Blondin officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are honeymooning in Mexico at present and will later return to Palm Springs to make their home.

"Beyond the Reef"

I'm rather sad, as I droop about town. Last year, at this time, we were on the count-down. "Just three more days—then the big trip." Wed... never been on a great ship.

Then two days... then just one.

Then allay sudden... the beginning of fun.

Brand new luggage... both of us had.

Mine was blue... "her's," zippered-plaid.

The first nite at dinner, I got a real scare.

Ordered, "lugged-hare." One look at this... & that was enuff.

Kinda slithery... grey looking stuff.

In San Francisco... a nite club tour.

Saw Lily St. Cyr... and that's for sure.

Out on the Pacific, 'twas mountain-wavy.

I'd a new respect for the lads in the Navy.

And to go down to dinner, I didn't dare.

Still scared of that gay, & his ghastly "jugged-hare."

I began to wonder... why people travel.

When all they ate, was stuff called "gravel."

And I hated that chap, when on deck we did muster.

When he remarked... "just a bit of a duster."

'Cause my heart's out there... BEYOND THE REEF.

moment a BIG one came. And turned his "duster" to a hurl-cane.

But all was forgotten when fore the mast-head.

Out of the Ocean... reared Diamond Head.

Then the hula girls came on the promenade decks.

And tossed luscious leis around our necks.

Yeah... it's rough peddling furniture. I'm full of grief.

'Cause my heart's out there... BEYOND THE REEF.

Named Judge at Crufts Show

By ELIZABETH FORBES
In London to act as a judge at the famed Crufts Dog Show at Olympia this weekend is Mrs. J. W. Anderson, of Victoria.
Mrs. Anderson, who flew to England last Friday by a TCA Hudson Bay flight, was invited by directors of the world-renowned show to come to London to judge Basenjis.
"It is a distinct honor," she said, "before leaving the city. I am very excited about it."
The honor—as Mrs. Anderson terms it—is well deserved. In North America she is acknowledged to be a keen judge, not only of Basenjis but of many other classes. She has passed the necessary examinations and has been named a judge of all breeds in Canada and a judge of Basenjis in the United States.
Her background for judging goes back to the days when she was a teen-ager at "Glenairley", the Sooke country estate of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gillespie.
Sheila Gillespie loved dogs and horses and she took an interest in stock judging even then. She also won prizes with her own entries. "I came by my interest honestly," she tells you today. Her grandfather, George Gillespie, a Victoria pioneer, was the first person to bring Airedales to the Pacific Coast and he is also credited with bringing the first Scotties to this part of the world.
"He loved dogs and horses,"

SOLUTION FRIDAY

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions to select to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Stephanie Borges, aged 11, of San Francisco, Calif., for the question:

Are There Any Monster Sea Serpents?

A few years ago, a strange fish was dredged up from the deep Atlantic Ocean. He has been described as a huge, black, clumsy looking creature of brilliant blue. His tail was broad and fleshy and his fins were fixed at the end of a stubby limbs. The scientists said that he was a coelacanth and they had been sure that this strange fish and all his relatives had been extinct for millions of years.

This shows how little we know about the deep and mysterious seas. The vast ocean basins, dipping several miles below the surface, are still largely unexplored. No doubt there are many more surprises still waiting for us down there. But it is not likely that one of them will be a monster sea serpent.

True, there have been many reports that such a creature does exist. He has been described as a huge, black, clumsy looking creature of brilliant blue. His tail was broad and fleshy and his fins were fixed at the end of a stubby limbs. The scientists said that he was a coelacanth and they had been sure that this strange fish and all his relatives had been extinct for millions of years.

Arched Loops Impossible

There are two possible explanations of these sea-going yarns. There are snakes in the sea, many of them five feet long and some of them nine feet long. These fellows could not give rise to such stories. Besides, like all water snakes, they swim by waving their coils from side to side. On account of his rib and muscle structure, this is the only way a snake can swim.

PLANES' SONIC BOOMS TRIGGER SNOWSLIDES

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Twelve snowslides were triggered Monday in Montana's Glacier National Park by jet aircraft breaking the sound barrier, it was learned here Tuesday. The experiment is believed to be the first of its kind.

Two F-109 Delta Darts of the 94th U.S. Air Force fighter group at the Geiger Air Base in Spokane, Wash., made nine supersonic flights over Logan Pass to set off the slides.

The experiment resulted from the dangerous build-up of snow above the Going-to-the-Sun Highway. One of the 12 avalanches covered the highway to a depth of 100 feet.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Suzy Parker came softly, almost shyly, into Sardi's at lunchtime, ordered champagne, and then stated that her sister Dorian Leigh is crazy and that her French husband is a monster.

"I'm terribly happy!" Suzy then exclaimed. "My husband, a writer with Paris Match, promised he wouldn't leave our new baby alone for one minute. Then the magazine ordered him to Moscow on a story, and from there to Munich. And he went!

"We're going to have a fight about that when I get back." She smiled, one of those slick, magazine lifted-chin smiles.

"And Dorian?" I asked.

"Crazy, as I told you. Married her gynecologist, you know. French, too. Charles Collingwood was in Paris doing Person to Person interviews and asked us.

"We said being married to Frenchmen was different. In France you never see your husband. As Dorian put it, American couples believe in togetherness. French couples believe in 'separateness.'"

SUZY PARKER ... why start again?

"I was asked to go on 'What's My Line' and I thought, 'Oh, they'll know.' I squeezed myself into a Chanel suit and they didn't know. Everybody in Paris did, though. My husband like for three months had been telling everybody!"

Suzy has no thought of becoming an expatriate. She disapproves of American stars going to Europe to escape taxes. "I feel it's quite ignoble of them," she said. "It will never happen to me," she asserted. "I'm as American as my husband is French." She added: "And that's something else. I never expect to get a divorce. I expect to be married to the same man forever. Why start going through the whole thing all over again with somebody else?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ...
Truman Capote escorted Lauren Bacall to El Morocco and the Blue Angel ... Singer-Actor James Darren's fiancée, Evy Norlund, kept smooching him at a ringside table at the Rialto Ball. They were wed Saturday at St. Patrick's ... Don Ameche's set for "Murder, Inc." the picture, but who could he ever murder? Diana Barrymore, so often broke, had arranged for her book earnings to be paid over 10 years. Monthly, her estate'll get payments several years. It may go to her mgr. Viola Rubber ... Diana, who asked Gerold Frank to help her write a "very personal" letter to Tennessee Williams, and later cancelled the appointment, had decided it was hopeless. She playfully referred to the natty playwright as "The Pop" and told one friend just before she died, "I have to admit I'm a flop with the Pop."

TRAFFIC FINES

GAGLARDI, STRACHAN TANGLE

'Ignorant Clown' Jeer Sparks Fight in House

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi took an hour and a quarter in the legislature on Tuesday to shout down opposition critics and brought about the first spirited crossfire of the throne speech debate.

He challenged the CCF to prove the contention of Opposition Leader Robert Strachan that the B.C. Electric contributes to Social Credit party funds.

"As far as I'm concerned we get no funds from anyone," he said, with reference to industry.

CCF hecklers called for an enquiry. Mr. Strachan asked about the statement of Cyril Shelford (S.C. Omineca) at the last Sored convention, who charged the Premier controlled party funds—and Omineca was not getting sufficient campaign aid.

IGNORANT CLOWN

The speech was interrupted by Speaker Hugh Shantz. He complained that Mr. Strachan called Mr. Gagliardi an ignorant clown, during the heckling. He forced Mr. Strachan to withdraw the remark.

"I won't call him an ignorant clown again, except outside the House," said Mr. Strachan. Mr. Strachan said the Speaker was continually upbraiding the Opposition but let insulting words go by when they were used by speakers on the government side. Randolph Harding (CCF, Kootenai-Slocan), said Mr. Gagliardi had stated Mr. Strachan wasn't a "respectful" member. He said Mr. Gagliardi "constantly drags down the level of debate". The Speaker asked Mr. Gagliardi to be more careful and the fight died away.

GANGSTERISM

Mr. Gagliardi made one reference to his speech in the House last year when he linked trade unionism with gangsterism and started a controversy which raged most of the year. Mr. Gagliardi said a Canadian Labor Congress official made a similar statement this week.

CLC president Claude Jodoin said he would not tolerate gangsterism in labor. "When I said that I was accused of attacking labor," said Mr. Gagliardi.

Hecklers told him, "You are anti-labor and you know it."

I'M PRO-LABOR

Replied Mr. Gagliardi, "I am the most pro-labor member that ever stood in this House. The workers of B.C. will stand up and attest to that when they know me personally."

Mr. Gagliardi went on to say he had been under constant attack while in the field without opportunity to answer.

ACROSS B.C.

Warm Days Worry Growers

(Compiled From CP)

KELOWNA—Okanagan fruit growers are worrying about the weather—the mild weather.

They say mild temperatures may start the sap running in fruit trees too soon, making them easy victims for sharp frosts which could reasonably happen before the winter ends.

Soft fruits, such as apricots, peaches and cherries, could suffer first, then apples.

DANCE BRAWL

MAPLE RIDGE—A Hane youth was charged with assault and charges were pending against two others following a brawl with a teacher at Maple Ridge Junior High School Friday when three youths tried to gain entry to a school dance. None of the youths were students.

HOTEL OPENS

PRINCE GEORGE—The three-storey ultra-modern Simon Fraser Hotel was officially opened here Tuesday. The $1,200,000 hotel is owned by Fraser Hotel Ltd.

"SHOULDER THE COST"

KAMLOOPS—The Kamloops and district Labor Council Tuesday urged the provincial government shoulder the cost of operation, administration and construction of an extension to Royal Inland Hospital. The council said the cost of the extension should be provided out of funds made available to the provincial government by the federal treasury as hospital grants, and "the millions levied on the people by the 5 per cent sales tax."

MORE FISH COMING

VANCOUVER—A steady upswing in volume of Skeena River sockeye and pink salmon catches after this year was predicted by the Skeena Salmon Management Committee Tuesday.

Although the long-range picture is optimistic, the committee decided, fishermen can expect another poor year on the Skeena due to the disastrous Babine slide of 1955 continuing to affect the run.

"My integrity has been in question... character assassination would be a mild word to use." He was thought to be referring to charges last year of patronage in the awarding of highway contracts.

The highways minister's speech was directed mostly toward proving that any government of action is liable to a great deal of criticism. He quoted Abraham Lincoln in stating, "Planting potatoes brings bugs." He added, "We're going to kill off a few bugs."

NEW JOBS

He was bitter toward critics of the Peace River hydro development, stating it would provide new jobs and new prosperity. "God endowed us with rich resources... hydro electric is necessary to the orderly development of the province," he stated. Unless it is developed, "by 1970 we'll be walking around with candles in our hands if the Peace doesn't go ahead along with the Columbia... How are we ever going to get power if we sit around and quibble?"

"DEEP FREEZE"

He went on, "We are not interested in the politics of power. We just want to be able to turn a switch and see the light come on" and the resultant new jobs and prosperity come about. "Some people would like to put the province back in the 'deep freeze'."

MASSIVE 'CLEANUP' PLANNED BY DE GAULLE

PARIS (Reuters)—President Charles de Gaulle said today he will use his sweeping new powers for "a far-reaching cleanup" of the civil service, army and government administration in Algeria.

Informants said De Gaulle probably will postpone for two weeks his scheduled visit to Algeria. No new date for the visit has been fixed.

Macmillan Speaks Against Apartheid

'We Must Remain True to Feeling On Man's Destiny'

CAPETOWN (Reuters)—Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan told the South African Parliament today that his government cannot support "some aspects" of South African policy.

Macmillan did not refer directly to apartheid—South Africa's race segregation policy—but his statement came after he had mentioned Britain's opposition to racial discrimination in general and was an obvious reference to it.

"As a fellow member of the Commonwealth," the British leader told a joint session of South Africa's two houses of Parliament, "it is our earnest desire to give South Africa our support and encouragement."

WOULD BETRAY BELIEFS

"But I hope you will not mind my saying frankly that there are some aspects of your policies which make it impossible for us to do this without being false to our own deep convictions about the political destinies of free men, to which in our own territories we are trying to give effect."

Macmillan has been under heavy pressure from liberal and left-wing circles at home to make an outright condemnation of apartheid during his visit to South Africa, last stop on his 17,000-mile African tour.

Macmillan told parliament he is aware that South Africa is faced with "complicated and baffling problems."

"It would be surprising if your interpretation of your duty did not sometimes produce very different results from ours in terms of government policies and actions."

MAKE DIFFICULTIES

He cited Britain's non-racialist policy and said it is possible that "we shall sometimes make difficulties for you."

"If this proves to be so, we shall regret it."

"But I know that, even so, you would not ask us to flinch from doing our duty. You, too, will do your duty as you see it."

"The wind of change" was blowing through the African continent.

"Whether we like it or not, this birth of national consciousness is a political fact. We must all accept it as a fact. Our national policies must take account of it."

The prime minister said he was opposed to a boycott on South African goods being organized in Britain by the opposition Labor party and other groups in protest against South Africa's strict segregation policy.

MAIN ISSUE

The great issue of the second half of the 20th century was whether the uncommitted peoples of Asia and Africa would swing to the East or to the West.

Much depended on experiments in self-government now going on. If these were successful the balance would come down in favor of freedom, order and justice.

Macmillan said he would have been "less than honest" if he had not referred to the different policies of Britain and South Africa.

PALE, THINNER BUT SMILING

Premier Released From Hospital To Rest at Home

Premier Bennett was discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday evening to convalesce in his Satellite Street apartment in Oak Bay.

The release from hospital came 11 days after his operation for removal of a kidney stone.

The premier was taken home in an ambulance immediately after a press conference at the hospital.

He was not attended on the journey by doctors or hospital nurses and will not retain a nurse at his home, his executive assistant Dan Ekman said today.

"The premier will remain in doors but is up and around. He plans now to slowly increase his activity," Mr. Ekman said.

Mr. Ekman will visit him daily, but no major meetings with his cabinet are anticipated.

He wore a grey suit, white shirt and silver-grey tie. When he spoke, his voice was weak and faltered several times.

He sat in a cleared space before the cameras and newsmen who filled the front rows of the basement classroom. His executive assistant Dan Ekman, and hospital medical superintendent Dr. E. N. Boettcher attended him. Nurse Mrs. Marguerite Stevenson handled his chair.

There was a prepared statement distributed, expressing the premier's thanks to all who had sent messages, flowers and gifts.

The premier read the statement, which said in part, "I would like to express my particular gratitude to the nurses."

15-MINUTE WARNING OF ATTACK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will have by September an effective system to provide 15-minute warning of an enemy missile attack, Air Force Secretary Dudley C. Sharp said today.

Sharp said this will offset the danger of an attack destroying the United States' ability to retaliate—a danger underscored recently by Gen. Thomas S. Power, head of the Strategic Air Command.

Power's proposal for an around-the-clock bomber alert was rejected today by President Eisenhower at his press conference.

Ike Wants To Share A-Secrets

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Eisenhower indicated today he would like to see the United States share more of its military atomic secrets with Canada and other allies.

His statement at a press conference came amid reports that the U.S. administration may propose changes in the American law allowing such allies as Canada, Britain and France a greater degree of custody and control of U.S. atomic weapons stockpiled in these countries.

Eisenhower said he believed it would better the interests of the United States to make the existing law "more liberal" as long as the U.S. can be sure that the allies acquiring this more generous treatment will stand with the U.S. in times of trouble.

He said he did not want to treat the allies as junior members of a firm which are only to be seen and not heard.

END TO SQUABBLE

A change in the law might mean an end to the squabble between the U.S. and France. The U.S. had to take some of its air squadrons out of France because the French government would not allow the stockpiling of American atomic weapons without full control over them.

The U.S. also is reported to be prepared to stockpile atomic weapons in Canada. Recently, Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated Canada would have a great degree of control over the direction and use of such weapons stored on Canadian soil.

The present U.S. law makes clear that any American atomic weapon stored abroad must remain under U.S. custody and control.

Eisenhower said that since the U.S. is allied with other nations in defence, it ought to arm them in the best possible manner to make the free world's defence more secure.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND

As matters stand, Eisenhower said, the U.S. cannot even give away information that it knows Russia already has. He added it was hard for him to understand why the U.S. does not make this information available.

A reporter asked if Eisenhower intends to pursue efforts to get an effective ban on nuclear testing.

Eisenhower replied that he certainly is going to keep U.S. representatives in Geneva as long as there is the slightest kind of chance the negotiations there will produce an effective agreement with the Russians banning tests.

Worst Blizzard on Record Paralyzes Halifax Traffic

Two Feet of Snow Dumped on City

HALIFAX (CP)—This Atlantic coast city and most of southern Nova Scotia was all but paralyzed today by the worst snowstorm in Halifax's weather history.

Twenty-five inches of snow had fallen by noon and it was still coming down. Winds up to 50 miles an hour blocked city streets and country highways with mountainous drifts.

Barrington Street, Halifax's main downtown thoroughfare, was as deserted as a country lane. Stores were closed and so were many offices. Employees were unable to get to work.

HIGHWAYS BLOCKED

Power and communication lines fell under the weight of the sticky, wet snow. All main highways leading east and west from the city were reported blocked for the first time in 20 years.

The Halifax weather office said the snowfall was the heaviest in more than 66 years. The last time the city got a 24-inch fall was in 1894.

Police and fire departments declared an emergency. Off-duty firemen were called back to stand by for whatever might happen. Drifts would prevent fire apparatus from moving on many streets except behind snowplows.

Trolley service slithered to a halt soon after dawn. Stalled street cars and abandoned automobiles clogged some streets and highways. Police tried to tow away cars so plows could do their work.

But city works commissioner George West described it as an almost impossible job. "It's a losing battle," he said. "As soon as we get a street clear it fills in again."

Power failures put several radio and television stations off the air for varying periods.

SHIPPING STOPPED

Shipping tied up in the harbor or hove to off the coast to ride out the blizzard. Only the Halifax harbor ferries continued to operate.

The Nova Scotia south coast got the heaviest snowfall. The snow was a little lighter inland. Northern New Brunswick reported none.

The strongest gale was reported at Greenwood in the Annapolis Valley, where it touched 62 miles an hour at noon.

The Shearwater naval air station, which handles commercial as well as military air traffic, was closed.

Rita Negus, hit by a car in the city's north end, was admitted to hospital with undetermined injuries after being carried on a stretcher by internes on foot. An ambulance that went to get the woman became stuck. A fire department emergency vehicle took her to a school from where the stretcher had to be carried about two miles to hospital.

Conciliation Asked

MONTREAL (CP)—The joint negotiating committee of the non-operating railway unions today asked federal Labor Minister Starr to appoint a conciliation board to deal with their wage dispute with the rail companies.

Gov't Requests Money

OTTAWA (CP)—The government asked Parliament today to approve another $31,960,511 in expenditures for the current fiscal year, boosting budgetary outlays to $5,681,950,047 for 1959-60.

Soviet Ends Jamming Of U.K. Broadcasts

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union officially informed Britain today that it will stop jamming British broadcasts to Russia.

The Kremlin conveyed its decision to Sir Patrick Riley, the British Ambassador to Moscow.

The Soviet jamming actually stopped at 5 p.m.

LEGISLATURE SITS TONIGHT

First night sitting of the current legislative session will be held tonight.

Time will be announced later today but is expected to be 8 p.m.

Another night sitting is expected next week to speed the completion of the throne speech debate and make way for the budget presentation, probably Feb. 12.

Speakers tonight are William Asselstine (SC, Atlin), Irvine Corbett (SC, Yale) and John Tisdale (SC, Saanich).

Reds Hold Own Summit In Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Members of the Warsaw Pact—the Communist bloc's answer to NATO—will hold a summit conference in the Kremlin Thursday.

The subject matter has not been disclosed, but there is speculation that the Iron Curtain countries will follow the Soviet Union's lead of three weeks ago and announce sharp cuts in their armed forces.

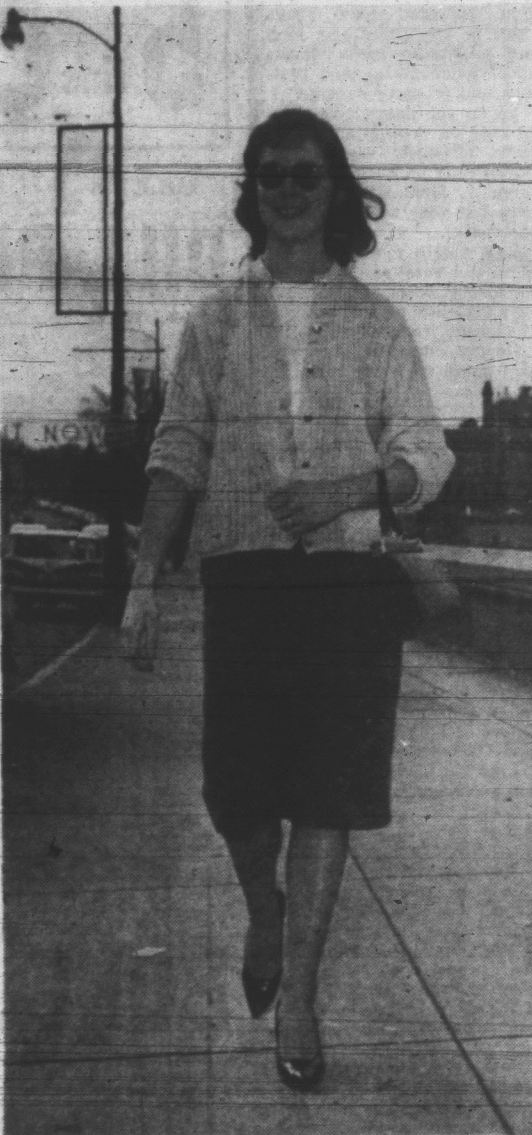

Diplomatic circles say Premier Khrushchev also may announce a phased withdrawal of Soviet troops from East European countries, leaving them more dependent on Russian rocket and nuclear strength.

Canada to Join In Pacific Cable

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will participate through the Crown-owned Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corporation in the laying of a cable across the Pacific Ocean, Transport Minister Hees announced today in the Commons.

Mr. Hees said the federal cabinet has ratified Canadian participation in the project.

MEANWHILE... IN VICTORIA

While Montreal shivered, Toronto froze, and Halifax dug itself out from under a blizzard, pretty Valerie Shick sauntered coatless back to work along Victoria's Causeway after mid-morning coffee break. Early spring was predicted by groundhog Tuesday, and as can be clearly seen, he is never wrong. Temperatures will remain mild here tonight and Tuesday, according to weatherman, but light rain is expected. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

Israeli Patrol Gunned by Arabs

JERUSALEM (CP)—Syrians announced shooting resumed on the Syrian-Israeli frontier today.

A Damascus spokesman for the United Arab Republic's army said U.A.R. outposts shot up a five-man Israeli patrol seen moving toward their positions, and that Israeli machine-guns then opened fire.

The machine-gun fire, possibly was intended to cover the operation of dragging away the killed or wounded members of the Israeli patrol, the spokesman said.

"The patrol was ambushed by our fire and all its members fell down," he said.

At Tel Aviv, an Israeli foreign ministry spokesman said Syrian soldiers seemed to be clinging to fortified positions in the Tawfik area in defiance of a United Nations request that they withdraw.

Sources in the foreign ministry said that Israel is prepared to talk to Syria—probably at United Nations headquarters in New York—about reducing tension on their troubled frontier.

Meanwhile, Syria still faced a UN request for the removal of an infantry platoon from the demilitarized zone.

LIGHTS ON DIM SAVED PASTOR'S LIFE

'Lump' in His Back Was Dynamite

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Rev. J. T. Robinson finished his Bible class, got into his automobile and began driving back to his home in Milledge, Ga.

As he was driving along Atlanta's Memorial Drive Tuesday night, Robinson felt a "lump" on his back, but ignored it. Instead, his thoughts turned to his wife and three children and his unending work as pastor of the Milledge Baptist Church.

Being a conscientious driver, the 35-year-old minister drove with his "dim" lights on while inside the city limits. He rarely used his "brights" because it was too much trouble blinking them on and off.

This habit saved Robinson's life—along with the "lump" on his back that kept aggravating him. He stopped his car about a mile from the city limits at an ice cream parlor to get a milk shake and take a look at the "lump."

That "lump" turned out to be two sticks of dynamite neatly wired to go off when Robinson pressed his foot on the light switch to turn on his "brights."

He shuddered when he realized that several times during the ride he tried to push the "lump" down and even as he tried to get out of the car his foot got caught in the wires.

Robinson said he was afraid to touch the wire and quickly

Det. Capt. J. L. Mosely, a bomb specialist, placed an auto seat in front of him, and dismantled the dynamite charge. Police said the sticks contained 60 per cent nitroglycerine. The device was taken to the state crime laboratory for further examination.

Robinson theorized that the person who wired the explosives must have picked the wrong car.

"I can't even imagine why anyone would want to make an attempt on my life," he said. "As far as I know, I don't have any enemies at all."

All-Male Jury In Murder Trial

Trial of Leland Eugene Miller, 33, charged with the stabbing death almost three years ago of Mrs. Dorothy Frances Duyvejonck, opened today in Nanaimo Assize Court before Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker and an all-male jury.

The stabbing took place April 2, 1957, in the home north of Courtenay which Miller shared with Mrs. Duyvejonck, his common-law wife. Miller was committed for trial May 14, 1957, but by September was ruled insane and unfit to instruct his counsel.

He has been in Essondale Mental Hospital since that time, and on Tuesday the court found him sane and able to stand trial.

First witness was Const. K. Anderson, RCMP, who described seeing the body of Mrs. Duyvejonck in the house April 3 at 3 a.m. There was a large wound in the neck, he said, and when a sheet over the body was raised, a knife was seen near the body.

The prisoner, a former Victorian and milk route driver, sat quietly during the session. Lean-faced and with thick hair, he wore a light blue suit and neat collar and tie.

He is defended by James J. Proudfoot, and T. G. Bowen, Colthurst and Donald Cunliffe are prosecuting.

MONTÉ ROBERTS

I trust the incoming incumbent of the tourist bureau, whose job it will be to beat heartily on the publicity drums, will not fail to turn the spotlight on one of Victoria's greatest—and, so far, most neglected attractions.

I refer, of course, to the Garbage Wharf. Excuse it, I mean Garbage Depot.

It is all very well to spend time, money, and ingenuity thinking up ways to publicize such attractions as Beacon Hill Park, the World's Tallest Totem, the Butchart Garden, the Stately Homes of a Little Bit of Olde England, the Cathedral pigeons, Government House, the five o'clock performance at the Fountain Circle, and the Legislative buildings all lit up at night, like.

But what of the Garbage Wharf? Pardon, Depot. Why should it be neglected? As a tourist attraction, it has boundless possibilities.

Yet what tourist has ever even heard of it? In fact, I suspect thousands of our own citizens, lifetime residents of Victoria, do not realize the immaculate perfection of this priceless pearl among the beautiful jewels of this, the fairest city of them all.

Such a Garbage Wharf—sorry, Depot—should not be born to blush unseen.

It combines the austere, antiseptic efficiency of its functional use with an old-world, maritime charm enhanced by the sleek, well-fed seagulls who hover over above in precision formation and ever-changing flight patterns.

Best of all, anybody can enter the Garbage Wharf—er, Depot—and anybody is bound to win.

I would suggest, however, that you dress rather informally. A morning coat is not required—White shirt, regimental tie, and an ordinary business suit (as long as it is of subdued color) will be perfectly in order.

(But no sports jackets or loud shirts, please.)

The attendants at the Garbage Depot (there, I made it first time 'round) are models of courtesy and efficiency. Even the smallest contributions are gratefully received and quickly removed from the visitor's automobile.

After which, the visitor is waved gallantly on his way, as the attendants turn to greet the next arrival.

And all this for a very modest fee, less than the price of a package of cigarettes.

I must admit, I was one of those who did not approve of the Garbage Depot, and I still miss the romantic sight of a grapefruit rind sailing serenely into the sunset down Juan de Fuca Strait.

But let us all get behind our Garbage Depot, and let us make sure the incoming incumbent of the tourist bureau will make sure its charms are fully publicized.

After all, this is something even Nanaimo can't take from us.

'JUMPING-JACK' JEEP TAKES IT ON NOSE WITHOUT DAMAGE

That versatile, bouncing military vehicle the jeep has lost none of its impact since the Second World War.

In city police court today army driver William C. Sutherland, 410 Wilson, of PPCLI at Work Point, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving arising from a rear-end collision between his jeep and a car on Bay Street. He was fined $40.

Court was told the car had $400 estimated damage; the jeep none.

New Financial Crisis Faces City Symphony

Special Conference Called by Directors

Victoria Symphony Society Tuesday night called for a special post-season conference of business, provincial government and civic representatives to meet a financial crisis.

It also decided to set up a junior symphony this summer for high school graduates as a training system for producing new local musicians.

'STAR-KISSED' PLAYS FOR BUTCHART'S?

Staging of open-air plays and musicals at Butchart Gardens during July and August is being considered by proprietor Ian Ross and his staff.

The stage presentations would be in addition to two open-air symphony concerts put on in July by Victoria Symphony Orchestra.

Under consideration is a theatrical season running from, say, July 1 to Aug. 15 when the evenings are generally warm. It could include presentations of Shakespeare's plays as well as light drama and famous Broadway musicals featuring local talent.

For this purpose the present symphony stage now located on the border between the formal garden and the Japanese garden would be transferred to what is known as the Nursery behind the rose garden.

A three-hour meeting of directors grappled with the society's "growing pains" problem but decided to call the three-way conference rather than cut down the number of concerts for next year's program.

The conference, to be set up after the March ending of the current concert season, is intended to broaden and increase government and community support.

John Barraclough, society president, said the outside municipalities are "contributing a disgracefully small amount" towards the symphony.

Victoria gave $3,500 last year, Saanich $250, Oak Bay $200 and Esquimalt $100.

He said the civic governments will be asked to contribute 10 cents per capita next year, which would pump $14,000 into the symphony's $85,000-plus budget.

The provincial government will be asked to contribute for the first time.

"Just as the federal government has taken an interest in the arts throughout the Canada Council, so should the provincial and civic governments," Mr. Barraclough said.

Business also will be asked to increase its donations, which slipped from $9,800 during the first half of last season to $5,100 this year.

GAP GROWS

"Ticket sales bring in about half of our income but that means we still have to find more than $40,000 elsewhere. As our society grows, it now numbers 1,750, and increases the program of concerts, the gap grows too," he said.

Last year 180 guarantors picked up a $15,000 deficit.

"They are willing to do that, each year but this time the deficit is going to be much larger so we must find ways of increasing the donations."

The present schedule of 10 pairs of concerts in the city, three in Sidney and four in Duncan will be maintained for another year in the hopes that the financial picture will strengthen.

$30,000 SOUGHT

The society also will apply for a $30,000 Canada Council grant this year to help set up the junior symphony.

Dr. J. F. K. English, deputy minister of education and a symphony director, was made chairman of a committee given the job of organizing the junior symphony.

Mr. Barraclough said the junior group will take musicians and school orchestra members after they graduate from high school and continue their training so that some day they can be worked into the senior symphony.

The society also will use Canada Council funds for presenting two concerts during March in the Royal Theatre for Grade 7 pupils.

"The concerts will be free but we hope that the children voluntarily will donate about 25 cents a piece to help defray the costs of transportation," Mr. Barraclough said.

Boiler Explosion Won't Delay Ship

A vapor explosion blew out one side of a low pressure boiler aboard HMCS Ottawa in Esquimalt Harbor shortly after 11 p.m. Tuesday, causing a blast that startled View Royal residents.

A navy technical officer said today the damage was minor, mainly to the boiler casing and brickwork, and will not restrict operations of the ship, due to sail Monday on an extended Pacific cruise.

The damaged boiler is used only when the ship is in port and the main boilers are shut down. It supplies steam for domestic heating, and for use in the ship's laundry and galley. It operates at a pressure of 100 pounds per square inch.

The navy said the explosion was apparently caused by unburned gases from the fuel oil used to fire the boiler.

There were no injuries. AB E. Botterell was the only man on duty in the boiler room at the time.

SAIL MONDAY

She was to have carried out a one-day firing exercise in Juan de Fuca Strait today, but was detained in port while command technical and engineering officers investigated the damage. She will sail Monday as scheduled.

The boiler affected is described as "about the size of the furnace in a medium-sized apartment block." It is 12 feet eight inches high, six feet 10 inches wide and 10 feet four inches long.

The duty officer aboard the ship described the blast as "sounding as if one of the ship's guns had been fired."

A formal report on the accident will be prepared in a few days.

FLY-BY-NIGHT SALESMEN IN SAANICH

A warning that a group of "fly-by-night" salesmen are operating in Saanich was issued today by Roy Woolfson, Saanich licence inspector.

He said he has received in the past two weeks more than 60 complaints from residents who have bought magazine subscriptions from salesmen but have never received the goods.

"We have also received complaints against contractors who solicit business from door-to-door," he said.

Mr. Woolfson said he will suggest to council that out-of-town firms operating in the Greater Victoria area be bonded for six months as a protection to the public.

Father of Two Admits Bilking City Shopkeepers

Donald McNeill, 32, of 2121 Cadboro Bay, father of two, pleaded guilty in city police court today to defrauding the public of money—a charge laid by police after McNeill obtained $51 with a concocted story that drew sympathy from eight victims.

Magistrate William Ostler remanded the accused to Tuesday for probation report and sentence.

The victims were all shopkeepers and businessmen who were telephoned first with the information that a man whose child had been scalded would be calling in to the particular store or office. The proprietor was to inform him of the "accident" and tell him to pick up a prescription which would cost anywhere from $5 to $10.

The telephone caller would add that the father had left home without his wallet.

In seven of the eight cases, Det. Raymond Maitland told the court, the business operators would offer money to the man who then called without being asked for it, having been moved by the alleged circumstances.

'On-Site' Industry Backed by Bonner

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the government agrees with B.C. Energy Board chairman Gordon Shrum that Peace River power should be used in the north.

Speaking in Vancouver Monday, Dr. Shrum said the proposed Columbia River power output should be earmarked for the lower mainland metropolitan area and Peace power should be used for on-site industry.

Mr. Bonner said the Peace River hydro memorandum of agreement between the government and Peace River Power Development Company spells out favorable terms for power use in the north.

PULP MILLS

He said he believes, when the Wenner-Gren, B.C. Electric subsidiary begins its northern project, the Wenner-Gren interests would simultaneously introduce northern industries.

Pulp mills have been suggested by Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston.

The memorandum of agreement stipulates "the power produced shall be made available on a first-call basis in the northeast and north-central regions of the province. Power which is surplus from time to time... shall be made available throughout the province."

The agreement also states rates charged shall be under Public Utilities Commission jurisdiction "provided that no additional sum shall be charged in the north... to equalize costs of transmission to other parts of the province."

Mr. Hamilton took issue with a Times editorial, based on the article.

NEVER

"On no occasion have I indicated that I favor development of Peace River power in preference to development of Columbia power," he wrote.

"To take from the (Vancouver) interview, that I was in direct conflict with my colleagues from British Columbia, is obviously incorrect. I maintain... that at the present time, and under the existing circumstances, it is in the nation's economic interest to proceed first, at the earliest opportunity with the development of the Columbia River."

Two Feet Of Snow Falls

HALIFAX (CP) — This Atlantic coast city and most of southern Nova Scotia was all but paralyzed today by the worst snowstorm in Halifax's weather history.

Twenty-five inches of snow had fallen by noon and it was still coming down. Winds up to 50 miles an hour blocked city streets and country highways with mountainous drifts.

Barrington Street, Halifax's main downtown thoroughfare, was as deserted as a country lane. Stores were closed and so were many offices. Employees were unable to get to work.

HIGHWAYS BLOCKED

Power and communication lines fell under the weight of the sticky, wet snow. All main highways leading east and west from the city were reported blocked for the first time in 20 years.

The Halifax weather office said the snowfall was the heaviest in more than 66 years. The last time the city got a 24-inch fall was in 1894.

Police and fire departments declared an emergency. Off-duty firemen were called back to stand by for whatever might happen. Drifts would prevent fire apparatus from moving on many streets except behind snowplows.

Trolley service slithered to a halt soon after dawn. Stalled street cars and abandoned automobiles clogged some streets and highways. Police tried to tow away cars so plows could do their work.

But city works commissioner George West described it as an almost impossible job. "It's a losing battle," he said. "As soon as we get a street clear it fills in again."

Power failures put several radio and television stations off the air for varying periods.

SHIPPING STOPPED

Shipping tied up in the harbor or hove to off the coast to ride out the blizzard. Only the Halifax harbor ferries continued to operate.

The Nova Scotia south coast got the heaviest snowfall. The snow was a little lighter inland. Northern New Brunswick reported none.

The strongest gale was recorded at Greenwood in the Annapolis Valley, where it touched 62 miles an hour at noon.

The Shearwater naval air station, which handles commercial as well as military air traffic, was closed.

Rita Ngus, hit by a car in the city's north end, was admitted to hospital with undetermined injuries after being carried on a stretcher by infernos on foot. An ambulance that went to get the woman became stuck. A fire department emergency vehicle took her to a school from where the stretcher had to be carried about two miles to hospital.

Vancouver Stocks

VANCOUVER — Closing sales: Caribou 200 at $1.05, Canadian Collieries 150 at $1.04, Torwest 2,000 at 16, Pease River 1,200 at 32, Sun Publishing "A" 25 at $11.75, Trojan 1,000 at 9.

Gov't Requests Money

OTTAWA (CP) — The government asked Parliament today to approve another $1,960,511 in expenditures for the current fiscal year, boosting budgetary outlays to $5,681,950,047 for 1959-60.

MEANWHILE . . . IN VICTORIA

While Montreal shivered, Toronto froze, and Halifax dug itself out from under a blizzard, pretty Valerie Shick sauntered coatless back to work along Victoria's Causeway after mid-morning coffee break. Early spring was predicted by groundhog Tuesday, and as can be clearly seen, he is never wrong. Temperatures will remain mild here tonight and Thursday, according to weatherman, but light rain is expected. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

PALE, THINNER BUT SMILING

Premier Released From Hospital To Rest at Home

Premier Bennett was discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday evening to convalesce in his Satellite Street apartment in Oak Bay.

The release from hospital came 11 days after his operation for removal of a kidney stone.

The premier was taken home in an ambulance immediately after a press conference at the hospital.

He was not attended on the journey by doctors or hospital nurses and will not retain a nurse at his home, his executive assistant Dan Ekman said today.

"The premier will remain in doors but is up and around. He plans now to slowly increase his activity," Mr. Ekman said.

Mr. Ekman will visit him daily, but no major meetings with his cabinet are anticipated.

He'll Be Back on 'Budget Day'

The premier is not expected to return to his office until the day he presents his budget in the house — tentatively set for Feb. 12.

The premier was fully dressed and smiling when he met the press at the hospital at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday. He was brought to the meeting in a wheelchair.

Pale and thinner than usual, the premier's smile seemed strained and at times the corners of his mouth turned down as if with emotion.

2 Wounded in Jewelry Store Robbery

MONTREAL (CP) — A bandit and a jewelry store owner were injured today in an exchange of shots during an abortive holdup attempt at a downtown jewelry store. Police said the wounded bandit fled with a companion after trying to holdup the jewelry store.

England Wins Second Cricket Test

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — England won the second cricket test here today by 256 runs from the strongly-favored West Indies.

The West Indians were all out for 244 on the sixth and final day of the match. The final scores were England 382 and 230; West Indies 112 and 244.

Youth Admits Wanton Bayonet-Killing

SEATTLE (AP) — A 17-year-old army deserter, stopped by police because the muffler of his car was dragging, confessed later to the bayonet slaying of a Pasco, Ore., man.

Police said Bernard James Fitzpatrick of Seattle admitted the wanton killing after his arrest in nearby Kirkland Tuesday night driving the slain man's car. The body of Ralph R. Lawson was found Monday at the foot of a snowbank near Mount Hood.

BEFORE S.A. HOUSE

British PM Speaks Against Racial Policy

CAPETOWN (Reuters) — Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan told the South African Parliament today that his government cannot support "some aspects" of South African policy.

Macmillan did not refer directly to apartheid — South Africa's race segregation policy — but his statement came after he had mentioned Britain's opposition to racial discrimination in general and was an obvious reference to it.

"As a fellow member of the Commonwealth," the British leader told a joint session of South Africa's two houses of Parliament, "it is our earnest desire to give South Africa our support and encouragement."

Macmillan told parliament duty did not sometimes produce very different results from ours in terms of government policies and actions.

He cited Britain's non-racialist policy and said it is possible that "we shall sometimes make difficulties for you."

"If this proves to be so, we shall regret it."

"But I know that, even so, you would not ask us to flinch from doing our duty. You, too, will do your duty as you see it."

"The wind of change" was blowing through the African continent.

"Whether we like it or not, this birth of national consciousness is a political fact. We must all accept it as a fact. Our national policies must take account of it."

The prime minister said he was opposed to a boycott on Continued on Page 14

LEGISLATURE SITS TONIGHT

First night sitting of the current legislative session will be held tonight.

Time will be announced later today but is expected to be 8 p.m.

Another night sitting is expected next week to speed the completion of the throne speech debate and make way for the budget presentation, probably Feb. 12.

Speakers tonight are William Asselstine (SC, Atlin), Irvine Corbett (SC, Yale) and John Tisdale (SC, Saanich).

Israeli Patrol Gunned

JERUSALEM (CP) — Syrians announced shooting resumed on the Syrian-Israeli frontier today.

A Damascus spokesman for the United Arab Republic's army said U.A.R. outposts shot up a five-man Israeli patrol seen moving toward their positions and that Israeli machine-guns then opened fire.

The machine-gun fire possibly was intended to cover the operation of dragging away the killed or wounded members of the Israeli patrol, the spokesman said.

"The patrol was ambushed by our fire and all its members fell down," he said.

At Tel Aviv, an Israeli foreign ministry spokesman said Syrian soldiers seemed to be clinging to fortified positions in the Tawafik area in defiance of a United Nations request that they withdraw.

Sources in the foreign ministry said that Israel is prepared to talk to Syria — probably at United Nations headquarters in New York — about reducing tension on their troubled frontier.

Meanwhile, Syria still faced a UN request for the removal of an infantry platoon from the demilitarized zone.

Chev Workers Strike

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — The United Auto Workers called a strike early today which left 10,000 employees idle in the Chevrolet division of General Motors. The UAW called the walkout after negotiations collapsed shortly after midnight in a speed-up dispute at a Chevrolet plant here.

Change Would Benefit Canada

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower indicated today he would like to see the United States share more of its military atomic secrets with Canada and other allies.

His statement at a press conference came amid reports that the U.S. administration may propose changes in the American law allowing such allies as Canada, Britain and France a greater degree of custody and control of U.S. atomic weapons stockpiled in these countries.

Eisenhower said he believed it would better the interests of the United States to make the existing law "more liberal" as long as the U.S. can be sure that the allies acquiring this more generous treatment will stand with the U.S. in times of trouble.

He said he did not want to treat the allies as junior members of a firm which are only to be seen and not heard.

END TO SQUABBLE
A change in the law might mean an end to the squabble between the U.S. and France.

The U.S. had to take some of its air squadrons out of France because the French government would not allow the stockpiling of American atomic weapons without full control over them.

The U.S. also is reported to be prepared to stockpile atomic weapons in Canada. Recently, Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated Canada would have a great degree of control over the direction and use of such weapons stored on Canadian soil.

The present U.S. law makes clear that any American atomic weapon stored abroad must remain under U.S. custody and control.

Eisenhower said that since the U.S. is allied with other nations in defence, it ought to arm them in the best possible manner to make the free world's defence more secure.

As matters stand, Eisenhower said, the U.S. cannot even give away information that it knows Russia already has.

He added it was hard for him to understand why the U.S. does not make this information available.

A reporter asked if Eisenhower intends to pursue efforts to get an effective ban on nuclear testing.

Eisenhower replied that he certainly is going to keep U.S. representatives in Geneva as long as there is the slightest kind of chance the negotiations there will produce an effective agreement with the Russians banning tests.

15-MINUTE WARNING OF ATTACK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will have by September an effective system to provide 15-minute warning of an enemy missile attack, Air Force Secretary Dudley C. Sharp said today.

Sharp said this will offset the danger of an attack destroying the United States' ability to retaliate — a danger underscored recently by Gen. Thomas S. Power, head of the Strategic Air Command.

Power's proposal for an around-the-clock bomber alert was rejected today by President Eisenhower at his press conference.

Reds Hold Own Summit In Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP) — Members of the Warsaw Pact — the Communist bloc's answer to NATO — will hold a summit conference in the Kremlin Thursday.

The subject matter has not been disclosed, but there is speculation that the Iron Curtain countries will follow the Soviet Union's lead of three weeks ago and announce sharp cuts in their armed forces.

Diplomatic circles say Premier Khrushchev also may announce a phased withdrawal of Soviet troops from East European countries, leaving them more dependent on Russian rocket and nuclear strength.

Conciliation Asked

MONTREAL (CP) — The joint negotiating committee of the non-operating railway unions today asked federal Labor Minister Starr to appoint a conciliation board to deal with their wage dispute with the rail companies.

LIGHTS ON DIM SAVED PASTOR'S LIFE

'Lump' in His Back Was Dynamite

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Rev. J. T. Robinson finished his Bible class, got into his automobile and began driving back to his home in Milledgeville, Ga.

As he was driving along Atlanta's Memorial Drive Tuesday night, Robinson felt a "lump" on his back, but ignored it. Instead, his thoughts turned to his wife and three children, and his unending work as pastor of the Milledgeville Baptist Church.

Being a conscientious driver, the 37-year-old minister drove with his "dim" lights on while inside the city limits. He barely used his "brights" because it was too much trouble blinking them on and off.

This habit saved Robinson's life — along with the "lump" in his back that kept aggravating him. He stopped his car about a mile from the city limits at an ice cream parlor, got a milk shake and took a look at the "lump."

That "lump" turned out to be two sticks of dynamite neatly wired to go off when Robinson pressed his foot on the light switch to turn on his "brights."

He shuddered when he realized that several times during the ride he tried to push the "lump" down and even as he tried to get out of the car his foot got caught in the wires.

Robinson said he was afraid to touch the wire and quickly telephoned police, who held back curious spectators.

Det. Capt. J. L. Mosely, a bomb specialist, placed an auto seat in front of him and dismantled the dynamite charge. Police said the sticks contained 60 per cent nitroglycerine. The device was taken to the state crime laboratory for further examination.

Robinson theorized that the person "who wired the explosives must have picked the wrong car."

"I can't even imagine why anyone would want to make an attempt on my life," he said. "As far as I know, I don't have any enemies at all."

Them rebels in Algeria wuz ready to die on th' barricades, but it looks like th' rebellion died instead.

Question is: Is it a late, late fall or an early, early spring?

Mister Bennett's one of th' few fellers who kin make a wheelchair look like a chariot.

Canada to Join In Pacific Cable

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada will participate through the Crown-owned Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corporation in the laying of a cable across the Pacific Ocean. Transport Minister Hees announced today in the Commons.

Mr. Hees said the federal cabinet has ratified Canadian participation in the project. Canada would contribute $25,000,000 towards the $75,000,000 cost of the Pacific section of the cable.

Free of Debt

CHEMAMUS — The United Church building is now free of debt, the annual congregational meeting was told this week.

The 1960 budget will make provision for an addition to the building and needed new equipment and fittings.

Rev. Thomas MacMillan,

Gas Price Probe Asked

 South African goods being organized in Britain by the opposition Labor party, and other groups in protest against South Africa's strict segregation policy.

It never had been the policy of any government in Britain to undertake or support campaigns of this kind designed to influence the internal policies of another Commonwealth country.

The great issue of the second half of the 20th century was whether the uncommitted peoples of Asia and Africa would swing to the East or to the West.

Much depended on experiments in self-government now going on. If these were successful the balance would come down in favor of freedom, order and justice.

Macmillan said he would have been "less than honest" if he had not referred to the different policies of Britain and South Africa.

JOHN SQUIRE

Dress Rehearsal Set for Friday

DUNCAN — Duncan Musical Club's production of Alice Duer Miller's comedy "Roberta", with music by Jerome Kern, scheduled to go on stage the first week in March, will be rehearsed in costume for the first time Friday.

A government investigation into the high cost of gasoline in British Columbia was urged in the legislature Tuesday by John Squire, the CCF member for Alberni.

Mr. Squire declared that some companies who have no refineries in B.C. spend millions in advertising their products as "the best" but are actually selling the gasoline of another company which is also spending millions in advertising.

DUPLICATION
 He spoke of "excessive and unnecessary costs" to the motorist, caused by duplication in the fields of manufacturing, distribution and advertising.

He said a royal commissioner investigating the situation in 1936 had recommended that gasoline, then selling in Vancouver for 30 cents a gallon, should be reduced to 18 cents.

The commissioner further recommended that no more than the cost of transportation should be added to the sale price at other points.

"But," said Mr. Squire, "distributors are adding much more to the cost of transportation."

Mr. Squire said the unwarranted number of new outlets being built at the present time had resulted in higher prices for the consumer, and for the garage and service station operator longer hours and reduced income.
